President Tells Russia U.S. Will Not Reduce Its Military Power Without Guarantees From Soviets; Eisenhower Enjoys Visit By Dulles

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower took command anew of the American program for world peace today as medical bulletins reflected increasing progress along the slow road to complete recovery.

A 7 a.m. medical bulletin carried the familiar cheerful note: "The President had another good night's sleep of eight hours. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

His 25-minute bedside conference with Secretary of State Dulles yesterday produced a new letter on disarmament to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. And it brought another warning the United States will not reduce its military power without guarantees Russia will do likewise.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles holds up for newsmen a copy of the secret document containing eight points he took up with President Eisenhower in a hospital conference Tuesday. At the right is James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary. (AP Wirephoto)

Brother Goes To Denver
The President's heart stood the reference so well that his brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State University, was invited to fly in today for his first visit since the President's heart attack Sept. 24.

What Eisenhower wrote Bulganin, in a page and a half letter, will not be disclosed until the Russian Premier has received it in Moscow. But Dulles told a Denver White House news conference:

"We do not anticipate any reduction of our total power unless we can be sure that there is a corresponding reduction elsewhere."

Dulles said this, in elaborating, under questioning on his assertion that the President approved a speech the secretary made along these lines to the American League convention at Miami Monday.

"Interim" Reply
Eisenhower's letter to Bulganin, which Dulles said he will forward today, was an "interim" reply to one from the Soviet Premier last month throwing cold water on the President's disarmament plan.

This was an offer, made at the summit conference in Geneva, to exchange military blueprints with the Soviet Union and allow mutual aerial inspection to assure the carrying out of agreements.

Dulles said that he and the President collaborated drafting the letter, which may be followed later by a more detailed answer. Bulganin's letter, he said, was very long and "raised a great many intricate and technical questions which are still under study."

Sherman Adams, the President's chief deputy, will be unable to attend the National Security Council meeting tomorrow, but, flying back with Dr. Eisenhower, will be in Washington for Friday's Cabinet meeting.

Like In Good Shape
Doctors checked the President thoroughly after Dulles left the longest conference Eisenhower has attempted since his seizure. The conference covered the agenda for the foreign ministers' meeting opening at Geneva Oct. 27, the Bulganin letter and six other topics, including Soviet activities in the Middle East.

Yet, when it was over, physicians reported the President's condition satisfactory "with pulse and blood pressure continuing normal," and that the President "thoroughly enjoyed the visit."

Adams conferred with the President for another 15 minutes later in the day, and a subsequent bulletin reported the President progressing "satisfactorily without complications."

The President's bed was wheeled out on a porch where he sunned himself for 20 minutes after the Adams conference.

LLOYD MAYERS DIES TUESDAY

Lloyd I. Mayers, 55, Gettysburg R. 4, formerly of Littlestown, died Tuesday afternoon at 2:19 o'clock at the Warner Hospital.

3 CARS COLLIDE MONDAY NIGHT

No one was injured but damage totaled $325 when three cars collided at 7:55 o'clock Monday night on the Fairfield-Ortanna Rd. about midway between the two communities.

State police said Thomas W. Wolfe, 27, Rocky Ridge, Md., and Kenneth Sanders, 47, Fairfield, a foreman at the Knouse Foods plant at Ortanna, were driving south when Dale E. McClellan, 26, Fairfield, drove from a private drive onto the road.

According to police, Wolfe, "took to the ditch" on the west side of the road to avoid hitting McClellan's car. The rear fender of Wolfe's car hit the bumper of McClellan's auto, causing $5 damage to McClellan and $20 to Wolfe's auto.

Sanders at the same time turned to the east to avoid McClellan's auto and the Sanders' car rolled over on the road. Its damage was estimated at $300.

Dulles said that he and the President collaborated drafting the letter, which may be followed later by a more detailed answer. Bulganin's letter, he said, was very long and "raised a great many intricate and technical questions which are still under study."

CHIEF TELLS OF FIRE LOSSES AT CLUB MEETING
A program in observance of Fire Prevention Week was held at the meeting of the Exchange Club at Banker's Restaurant, Tuesday evening.

Guests were Donald McSherry, chief of the Gettysburg Fire Co.; Donald Staub and Frank Linn, assistant chiefs, and Irvin Houck, a representative of the Houck Rubber Supply Co., Hanover.

In response to questions during an open discussion, McSherry revealed there are between 75 to 100 fires within the borough during a normal year. So far this year there have been 68 fires with a loss of about $4,000.

He explained the new foam being used by the company, pointing out its great advantage over "plain water" in combating fires.

Lauds Local Company
Houck spoke concerning rubber fires which he said are one of the hardest types to extinguish. He cited the success of foam or "wet water" equipment against rubber fires and lauded the local company for keeping up with the finest fire-fighting equipment and methods.

At the conclusion of the meeting Houck showed a film, "Stop Fires and Save Jobs."

Cletius Mayer, vice president of the club, presided in the absence of the president, John Slentz.

Death Will Not Break 5-Year Christmas Tree Vigil For Son
DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Lights on a withering Christmas tree will be burning, as they have for nearly five years, when Mrs. Luella Miller meets a train at the Decatur railroad station this afternoon.

Mrs. Miller decorated the tree for Christmas 1950. When the younger of her two sons, Pfc. Clifford Sapp, then 19, didn't return from Korea for Santa's visit, she vowed to keep the tree up until he did get home.

Since then the lights have burned 24 hours a day.

In January 1951 the Army notified Mrs. Miller that her son had been missing in action since Nov. 30.

Sometime later the hopeful mother saw a newspaper picture of some prisoners in North Korea and thought she recognized her son among them.

She held out hope, and had no further word until about a month ago.

Then the Army informed her

REPEAT PLEA FOR GETTYSBURG TO ACQUIRE SCHOOL

Gettysburg's Travel Council Tuesday evening reiterated its desire that the town purchase the High St. School building at public sale October 20. The Council had gone on record as favoring purchase of the school by the town about a year ago.

The group urged that the town turn a portion of the school building into a "reception center" for tourists. The large lot could provide parking space not only for residents, but for tourists and buses, it was held. A reception center for tourists would provide for expansion of the tourist information service now provided by the booth conducted by the Retail Merchants on Lincoln Square; and the school building could also provide a public comfort station. Office space would be available in the building, and recreational activities could be carried on there, it was stated.

To Meet Excursionists
President Allen A. Larson and LeRoy E. Smith were appointed to meet the 450 excursionists scheduled to arrive here by train about 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon for a 3 hour stay. The tour is sponsored by the Lehigh Valley Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society.

Purchase of the second 125,000 of an original order of 250,000 folders was authorized. The supply will last about a year, Larson said. He added that there are 20,000 of the original 125,000 remaining.

Larson said he will appoint a committee to consider changes in the folder.

There was a lengthy discussion on the use of the Western Maryland Railway station office rented by the Travel Council. A committee from the Retail Merchants, Chamber of Commerce and Travel Council will meet to determine to what use it can be converted.

Members were asked to go to Washington November 8 for an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the possibility of providing the capital Trailways bus lines with a franchise permitting them to operate a bus from Gettysburg to Washington.

Hugh Bringham and Donald V. Manning were named to a committee to clean the Western Maryland railway station office for Travel Council.

Expect Two Bands
The Gettysburg High School bands and the Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg are expected to take part in the parade along with other organizations. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Ten-year-old youngsters are asked to be present to form one segment of the parade. Service clubs and fraternal organizations are asked to have flags and representation present as are all other organizations of a civic nature.

Ernest Krape reported that a poster contest is being conducted in the schools and that the winning posters will be displayed in a store window here during U. N. week.

Further plans were outlined for the dinner session held as part of the U. N. week activities. The service clubs and all other groups and individuals are invited to attend the dinner.

The next meeting of the committee will be held next Tuesday night at the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock.

PTA TO DISCUSS READING ISSUE
Elementary school parents of the Gettysburg School District will discuss the current issue, "Is Johnny Learning to Read?" at a PTA meeting, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Keefeauver Elementary School.

"Sippy and the Three R's," a film, will be shown. A discussion period led by Mrs. C. A. Sloat, First Grade teacher at the Keefeauver School, and Mrs. Eugene Hartman, Second Grade teacher at the Lincoln School, will follow. The teachers will demonstrate with illustrative material and will answer questions concerning current teaching methods.

A social period will follow the meeting.

A meeting of special interest to high school parents is planned for October 27.

Miss Orris, a former New York fashion model, has directed, modeled and been master of ceremonies for numerous fashion shows and has appeared in "The Red Diamond Revue," a USO radio show. She has lectured on modeling and the theater before a number of women's clubs and also sketches fashion illustrations for an advertising agency. A member of the Hanover Community Players, she has starred in a number of their performances.

PARADE WILL BE HELD OCT. 23 FOR U.N. OBSERVANCE
A parade Sunday, October 23, will be one of the highlights of the observance of United Nations Week here, according to plans of the committee in charge outlined at a meeting Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church.

Rev. Robert Knechel said the parade will form at 2 p.m. at the Gettysburg High School parking lot and will move at 2:30 o'clock to Baltimore St., north on Baltimore to E. Middle St., east on Middle St. to E. Confederate Ave., south to the Keefeauver Elementary School.

At the school a tree will be planted and a plaque placed noting that the tree was planted on the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. The ceremony at the school is expected to start about 3:15 o'clock.

The Gettysburg High School bands and the Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg are expected to take part in the parade along with other organizations. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Ten-year-old youngsters are asked to be present to form one segment of the parade. Here And There News Collected At Random

The 1955 Gettysburg Community Chest financial campaign is far short of its goal . . . $19,700. To attain this objective a great many more people will have to donate their fair share or five organizations in Gettysburg will be without funds to carry on their work.

Contributions, in the main, have been about on an average, a Chest official said this morning. "Some of the donors gave about what they have been giving in previous years. A very few have upped their contributions a little bit, but the majority of donors have not given as much as they in other years . . . and a great many have not contributed anything," he added. "Unless we receive the support these organizations deserve a great many projects will go by the board," he concluded.

If by chance you have not been approached for your contribution won't you please send it to the Chest office in the Plaza building or call Chairman John Stahl and your donation will be called for.

AAUW CHAPTER WILL PRESENT SERIES ON WGET
The Gettysburg Chapter of the American Association of University Women on Thursday will begin a series of 15-minute radio broadcasts over WGET that will continue twice a week, Mondays and Thursdays, indefinitely.

Each Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock the members will present a book review and each Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock a portion of a continuing program, "The American Story," will be presented.

Thursday "The American Story" will begin with Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Biglerville, giving details of "The Age of Discovery," the period when Columbus and the explorers who followed him sailed to America to open what was then an unknown world. The second in the series will be presented October 20, when Miss Martha Stalmsmith will speak on "Experiment in Colonization," the story of Jamestown and the establishment of Virginia.

First Book Review
The first of the book reviews will be presented next Monday afternoon when Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh will review the "Autobiography of Grandma Moses." Second in the series will be presented Monday, October 24 when Mrs. T. C. Daniel will review "Atoms in the Family—My Life With Enrico Fermi," by Laura Fermi.

"The American Story" is adapted from a series of programs prepared by Broadcast Music, Inc., and the Society of American Historians. It covers America's history from the landing of Columbus to the atomic age.

Mrs. Basil Crapster will present the third in the series October 27, on the theme "The Pilgrims, Plymouth and the Mayflower Compact." October 31 Miss Ruth McIlhenney will present a book review on "Hunter," written by John E. Hunter.

Mrs. McGlynn and Mrs. Fortenbaugh are the chairmen for the programs presented this month. Heading the committee for the November programs will be Mrs. Robert Cooder. Mrs. Kenneth Smoke will be in charge of the December programs; Miss Martha Stalmsmith, January; Mrs. Crapster and Mrs. R. T. Mara, February; Mrs. Harold Dunkelberger, March, and Mrs. Arthur E. Rice Jr., and Mrs. John S. Rice, April.

ROTH SAYS OLD PAPERS REVEAL PUBLIC MOODS

"Because newspapers mirror their times, the present generation can gain fascinating insights into Gettysburg's past by reading the newspapers which have been part of the county since 1800," G. Henry Roth, of the news staff of The Gettysburg Times, told the Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening at its meeting at the VFW home.

"The residents of the town years ago were vehement in their opinions and they expressed themselves clearly and at length on public issues in 'letters to the editor' of the local newspaper," Roth said.

"Reading back over the years one finds that the public schools of which we are so proud today were established only over the opposition of many people. Plans for public education were denounced as socialistic, at least. It is also interesting to note that most of the writers of 'letters to the editor' were versed in Greek and Roman mythology and they filled their letters with numerous references to both, all uncomplimentary to their opponents."

"OPEN HOUSE" HELD TUESDAY
Students occupying the Richard House on the seminary campus held an "open house" and tea Tuesday evening for the seminary faculty and student body in observing the opening of the dormitory for girls attending the seminary.

Four young women students at the seminary and two who attend college here are occupants of the house. One of the group, Michiko Ohta, a Japanese, wore a native costume. Decorations for the open house were based on a Japanese motif. Miss Ohta is a graduate of the Japanese Christian Women's College in Tokyo and plans to teach there when she completes her studies here. A fellow occupant of the Richard House is Miss Esther Durbarow, now a teacher at Biglerville and a part time student at the seminary, who taught Miss Ohta at the Women's College in Japan.

In addition to Miss Ohta and Miss Durbarow, others on the committee in charge were the Misses Elizabeth Boos, Washington, D. C.; Barbara Winey, Harrisburg; Linda Fritz, Oakland, Md., and Barbara Wagner, York.

China Says 47 Yanks Can Leave When They Ask; Probe 19 Others
TOKYO (AP)—Communist China said today 47 Americans behind the Bamboo Curtain are free to leave any time they apply for departure and said it is examining the cases of 19 other Americans accused of crimes.

The official Peiping radio quoted People's Daily, the official party newspaper, as saying the 47 have not applied for exit permits.

The broadcast said that in accordance with its agreement with the United States at Geneva, Red China "is now examining their cases, the 19, one by one according to Chinese legal procedure and . . . will inform the British chargé d'affaires in Peiping of the results."

Under the agreement the British diplomat was selected to act for any American wishing to leave Red China.

Diplomatic officials in London said the charge d'affaires, Con O'Neill, has opened new talks with the Red Chinese regime aimed at speeding release of the 19 Americans.

They said O'Neill has not been allowed to see any of the 19.

The Red Chinese recently released 10 Americans through Hong Kong and two more reportedly left Shanghai today by ship for Japan.

The announcement was coupled with a repeated charge that the United States is stalling on ambassador-level talks at Geneva, refusing to discuss matters other than the exchange of civilians.

Hospital Treats Four For Injuries
Walter Heidelberg, 19, a student at Gettysburg College, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of his left toe received while playing fraternity football Tuesday.

Floyd Rhoads, 37, Newville, received treatment for a contusion of the abdomen sustained Tuesday when a cable snapped while he was operating a machine.

Samuel Whitman, 46, Gardner, was treated for the amputation of the end of his right middle finger which was injured while he was operating a mailing machine.

Harry Traurig, 18, a student at Mt. St. Mary's College, received treatment for a dislocation of his left little finger sustained while playing softball.

MISS HERETER PASSES AWAY TUESDAY NIGHT

Miss MaBelle Hereter, 53, 241 E. Lincoln Ave., a teacher at the Meade School for about 23 years, died Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Warner Hospital following an illness of six months.

She was a native of Adams County, a daughter of J. I. Hereter, with whom she resided, and the late Grace (Newman) Hereter.

After attending Glenwood School, near Knoxlyn, she graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1921. She attended Gettysburg College for two years after which she taught for one year at Glenwood. Later she attended the Peabody Conservatory of Music for two years where she specialized in piano study and graduated in public school music instruction.

Funeral On Friday
Miss Hereter taught music in the public schools of Milroy, Pa., after which she attended West Chester State Teachers College for two years. For the last 23 years she taught at the Meade School during which she studied at Shippensburg State Teachers College where she received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education.

The deceased was a member of Christ Lutheran Church, Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Colonists, Chi Omega Sorority of which she was a former secretary, Pennsylvania State Education Association, Gettysburg Branch of the PSEA and the Dorcas Society.

In addition to her father she is survived by one brother, J. Kermit Hereter, Gettysburg.

Funeral services Friday at 2 p.m. at the Bender Funeral Home conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Herman G. Stumpfle Jr. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

The family has requested the visiting hours at the funeral home be omitted.

FARMERS NAME 6 DIRECTORS AT COUNTY MEETING
Members of the Adams County Farmers Association, meeting Tuesday evening at the Adams Electric Cooperative building, rear of N. Stratton St., for the first session of their annual convention, elected directors and established policies for the coming year.

Thursday night at 7 o'clock the members will hold the second portion of the annual meeting in the form of a dinner at the York Springs Fire Hall.

George L. Haenn, Gettysburg R. 1; W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville R. D.; Thomas Murren, Hanover R. 4; Melvin Worley, York Springs R. 1; Harry Scott, Gettysburg R. D., and A. B. C. Williams, York Springs R. D., were named directors for two-year terms.

Worley and Haenn were also elected delegates to the Pennsylvania Farmers Association convention. John Pitzer is the first alternate and George Scott, second alternate.

11 Policies Adopted
Much of Tuesday night's meeting was devoted to discussion and adoption of the policies for the organization.

John W. Woods, chairman of the policy development committee, presented a list of eight policies which the committee had drawn up at meetings held in the homes of members throughout the county. All were adopted plus three more that were suggested from the floor.

The farmers went on record as opposing proposals now before the state legislature to eliminate the office of county superintendent of schools. The farmers also expressed their opposition to Daylight Saving time. They favored "having a farmer member on the state game commission at all times"; opposed legislation requiring title certificates for farm tractors and other self-propelled farm machinery, holding

"I Know That The Salt Of The Earth Is The Horny-Handed..."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Time: the present.

Place: a political campaign classroom.

Event: a gathering of candidates taking a course in political speechmaking in preparation for the campaign next year. The teacher calls the class to order.

Teacher: "Gentlemen, we are gathered here to discuss the time-honored and time-tested phrase—all sound as a dollar (laughter)—which may at first seem old-fashioned, but which we find by scientific means to be as effective in these days of television as they were in days long past.

"Now, I shall call on Mr. Man Who to come to the platform. He will speak as though you were an audience of voters—and I shall correct him and give him pointers where necessary for the benefit of all Mr. Who."

"Clarion Call of Duty"

Mr. A Man Who struts and comes to the platform. He clears his throat, adjusts his glasses, assumes a confidential air, and begins:

"Ladies and gentlemen, (pause) Everyone who has known me knows that I never have shirked a clarion call to duty. You can depend on that as surely as you can depend on the sun rising in the East and setting in the West. And it makes me humble.

"As my dear father used to say when he bounced me on his knee, 'The race goes to the strong, son. But I also took to heart the words of my sainted mother who told me every night after I said my prayers and she had tucked me in bed: 'Always remember, son, the meek shall inherit the earth.'"

"If you elect me I promise I will how to the line—and you know my opponent can't even plow a straight furrow! (laughter)

"I promise you my friends, that I'll let the chips fall where they may. I'll treat friend and foe alike, without ... without ..."

Teacher (prompting): "Without fear or favor?"

Mr. Who: "Thank you (resuming) With your help I'll go down the middle of the road and leave no stone unturned to give you the kind of government you expect and the kind of government every American citizen ... Please Mr. Teacher (sharply): 'Please Mr. Who! Must we go over this again? It's every red-blooded, 100 per cent American.'"

"A Sacred Trust"

Mr. Who: "... That every red-blooded, 100 per cent American so richly deserves and which you will receive from me because I will regard it as a sacred trust.

"I have known poverty friends. I know the value of a dollar and I know that a penny saved is a penny earned. I know that the salt of the earth is the horny-handed son of toil. But his rough, gruff ways must be softened by the tender, loving gentleness of the wife and mother who keeps the home fires burning.

"And I say again, if elected I shall keep my shoulder to the wheel and march side by side with you to a better government. I thank you!" (loud applause)

Teacher: "Thank you, Mr. A Man Who! That truly was inspirational. And next week we shall hear a discussion: 'Keep your ear to the ground and your eye on the ball—but watch the straws in the wind.'"

"Goodnight!"

ROTH SAYS OLD

when it was learned that the Confederate armies were headed north in the summer of 1863, and coming closer and closer to Gettysburg. The people of the day had no radio, no daily newspaper, no telephones, no television for quick communication and the weekly Gettysburg papers of the time give some idea of the rumors that must have filled the community as the armies advanced.

"Most fascinating of the papers are those pertaining to the events of the battle here, but it is also interesting to read the accounts of the war of 1812, of the Spanish American war, of the Mexican war, and all the other events that one learns from the history books, and see how they were known at the time by the people of Gettysburg and Adams County as living current events in which they took part."

President Ernest Krape presided at the meeting. Program chairman Charles S. Graham announced that 1st Sgt. L. I. Prior, of the Pennsylvania State Police, assistant to the state fire marshal, will speak on Fire Prevention next Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the VFW. November 1, L. H. Bull, deputy secretary of agriculture, will speak at a city farm meeting to which the members of Kiwanis will bring farm guests. Plans were also outlined for activities in connection with the United Nations Week program which is being headed this year by the Kiwanis Club.

Two Injured In Collision Tuesday

Two young men suffered minor injuries and damage totaled $555 when two cars collided Tuesday night at 7:40 o'clock two miles north of Biglerville on the Carlisle Rd.

State police said Ernest Bittinger, 75, Biglerville farmer, headed east on a side road, stopped at the stop sign and then drove into the Gettysburg-Carlisle Rd.

Kenneth E. Markle, 17, Biglerville laborer, was driving south toward Biglerville. The two cars collided and Markle's car ran off the road and struck a tree.

Markle suffered a number of minor abrasions. A passenger in his car, Gary Wagaman, 19, Aspers R. 1, had several bruises about the head. Neither sought medical treatment.

Damage was estimated at $65 to the Bittinger car and at $500 to the Markle sedan.

Mrs. March was in charge of entertainment.

The Friday Afternoon Literary Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. I. Burgoon, Springs Ave., at 3 o'clock instead of 2:30 because of the funeral of Miss MaBelle Hereter.

MUST INCREASE ARMY SPENDING

PARIS (AP)—The defense chiefs of the North Atlantic Alliance turned toward home today after hearing stern warnings that Western military spending must go up — not down.

The defense ministers of the NATO allies opened their three-day conference Monday hopeful that the recent peaceful overtures from Russia might warrant cuts in their appropriations for their armed forces.

They got a shock. NATO's top advisers warned the ministers cuts in their defense spending were unthinkable in the face of the Soviet Union's still growing military might.

With prices soaring and the Soviets promoting a lull in the cold war, NATO's military planners told the ministers they must weed out all but the essentials in their defense programs.

The experts emphasized repeatedly that Europe's big problem is a strong air defense, with an adequate warning system against a surprise Red attack armed with nuclear weapons.

PRINCESS MAY MEET TOWNSEND

LONDON (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend was due in London tonight, Princess Margaret tomorrow morning.

This much was fact. All else was speculation. Is this the week of decision for the pretty sister of Queen Elizabeth II?

Will the world be told at last that she plans to marry the poor but handsome flying man—or that she doesn't? Will they meet publicly for the first time in three years? Outside the inner circle, nobody knows.

Even the brasher morning newspapers were reduced to telling the story in the form of questions and guesses.

Townsend On Leave
Townsend, on leave until Nov. 7 from his post of British air attaché at Brussels, reached Le Touquet Airport at Paris today en route to London.

The princess is coming by train from the royal castle at Balmoral, Scotland, where she spent her summer vacation.

Townsend declined to tell newspapers where he will stay or what engagements he has made in England.

The princess, with the Queen and other members of the royal family, will dine next Wednesday with the Archbishop of Canterbury, ecclesiastical head of the Church of England.

Church Opposes Wedding
The church officially opposes the remarriage of divorced persons whose ex-spouses are still alive. Townsend is a divorced man. He was the innocent party in the divorce action, but the church makes no exceptions.

The Daily Mirror, noting that Queen Mother Elizabeth also would attend the archbishop's dinner, remarked:

"Those who believe a decision for or against the princess's marriage is pending think the dinner would be an ideal occasion for a conference on the subject."

DIABETIC CAN LOSE LICENSE

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Bedford County Court has ruled the state Department of Revenue is empowered to revoke a truckdriver's license because he was involved in an accident while in a diabetic coma.

Judge Richard C. Snyder, in a decision yesterday, turned down an appeal by Frederick N. McClelland, 23, of Bedford. The judge said, however, that McClelland should be permitted to operate his own car.

McClelland lapsed into a coma at the wheel of a large truck loaded with steel while driving into Johnstown. The truck crashed into a bus, injuring 25 persons last Dec. 23.

The court said McClelland had been a diabetic for eight years before the crash, and had presented testimony by his doctor that he would "now rigidly adhere to a schedule of treatment necessary to prevent a recurrence of coma." Judge Snyder said he interpreted the law to mean that only a restricted license could be issued to McClelland.

"YOU'RE BEYOND COMPARE"

I've watched the golden sun go down . . . across a peaceful bay . . . and witnessed dreamy afterglow . . . that comes at close of day . . . I've seen a million stars shine through . . . like diamonds in the sky . . . and looked upon old Mr. Moon . . . smiling from places high . . . then, too, my eyes were blessed to see . . . the sunrise o'er a hill . . . with beams of multi-colored light . . . that brought my heart a thrill . . . I have observed a rock-bound shore . . . caressed by waves of white . . . so many wondrous things I've seen . . . both in the day and night . . . but I must here and now confess . . . and what I say is true . . . the things I have related, dear . . . cannot compare with you.

Baptist Minister Cited For Contempt

CAMDEN, N. J. — A Baptist minister was cited for contempt yesterday by Judge Frank T. Lloyd Jr., of the State Superior Court for writing a letter that touched "on the integrity of the courts."

The letter by the Rev. Loriot D. Boshoff of the First Baptist Church, Gloucester, was not read or introduced into the court record. As published in the weekly Gloucester City News, it criticized Lloyd's decision ordering a referendum on Sunday liquor sales in Gloucester.

Sens. Wade (R - Cumberland), Derk (D - Lycoming), Wolfe (R - Union) and Berger (R - Potter). The resolution calls for the "re-naming in recognition of the 'interest shown' in projects in that area by the Clinton County senator."

ROLL CALL WEEK IS OBSERVED

Y-Teen Roll Call Week, established in 1948 to emphasize YWCA work with youth, is being held this week. The theme is "All Aboard—Go With Us." During the week membership lapel buttons carrying the message "I'm On Board" are being worn by Y-Teen members and new members.

A feature of the event will be the initiation of an international scrapbook project to enable American teen-agers to further relations with teen-agers of other countries. Y-Teens of the United States will prepare the scrapbooks as a group project. The books will include outstanding events of their lives, their community and their organization to tell the story of American youth abroad. Teen-agers in 40 countries are expected to participate and send their material to the U.S.

This year's Y-Teen Roll Call includes a round-up Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to which all girls from 12-17 years of age are invited.

President's Conference With Dulles Emphasizes Foreign Policy Strength

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON — Diplomats today viewed President Eisenhower's sickbed talk with Secretary of State Dulles as a dramatic bid to emphasize the absence of any U.S. foreign policy lag on the eve of the Big Four conference.

Dulles flew back to Washington last night after a 25-minute discussion of eight key points with Eisenhower at Denver. The secretary described Eisenhower's suggestions as "extremely helpful."

More tangibly, the conference produced Eisenhower's interim reply to a letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin which had criticized Eisenhower's proposal to swap U.S. and Russian military data as a step toward disarmament.

But an underlying purpose of the trip was described by diplomatic sources as an effort to:

Dulles Not Weakened

1. Allay Western fears that Dulles will be in a weakened position.

May Return To Denver

Dulles said he may go back to Denver before leaving Oct. 22 for Geneva. He has an appointment Oct. 20 with key congressional leaders, whom he will brief on Geneva policy.

Aside from the Bulgarian letter, Dulles said he talked with Eisenhower about preparations for the Big Four meeting. But he would not say anything about the six other points he said had been taken up with the President.

It was reported, however, six other potentially critical problems of primary concern to Dulles at this time include:

1. Asst. Secretary George V. Allen's report on the troubled Middle East. Allen came back Friday from a rush trip to Cairo where he talked with Egyptian leaders who contracted to buy arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

2. Dep. Asst. Secretary Robert D. Murphy's report on his talks with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Tito has complained that U.S. officials are too bossy in administering U.S. military aid inside Yugoslavia.

3. Communist progress in identifying communism with Asian-African opposition to colonialism.

4. France's North African difficulties.

5. U. S. Ambassador Alexis Johnson's efforts in negotiations with the Red Chinese at Geneva, to win freedom for 19 Americans still imprisoned inside China.

6. Greek-Turkish quarrels over independence of the island of Cyprus from Britain.

"YOU'RE BEYOND COMPARE"

I've watched the golden sun go down . . . across a peaceful bay . . . and witnessed dreamy afterglow . . . that comes at close of day . . . I've seen a million stars shine through . . . like diamonds in the sky . . . and looked upon old Mr. Moon . . . smiling from places high . . . then, too, my eyes were blessed to see . . . the sunrise o'er a hill . . . with beams of multi-colored light . . . that brought my heart a thrill . . . I have observed a rock-bound shore . . . caressed by waves of white . . . so many wondrous things I've seen . . . both in the day and night . . . but I must here and now confess . . . and what I say is true . . . the things I have related, dear . . . cannot compare with you.

Baptist Minister Cited For Contempt

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—A Baptist minister was cited for contempt yesterday by Judge Frank T. Lloyd Jr., of the State Superior Court for writing a letter that touched "on the integrity of the courts."

The letter by the Rev. Loriot D. Bozorth of the First Baptist Church, Gloucester, was not read or introduced into the court record. As published in the weekly Gloucester City News, it criticized Lloyd's decision ordering a referendum on Sunday liquor sales in Gloucester.

Sens. Wade (R—Cumberland), Derk (D—Lycoming), Wolfe (R—Union) and Berger (R—Potter).

The resolution calls for the re-naming in recognition of the "interest shown" in projects in that area by the Clinton County senator.

ROLL CALL WEEK IS OBSERVED

Y-Teen Roll Call Week, established in 1948 to emphasize YWCA work with youth, is being held this week. The theme is "All Aboard—Go With Us." During the week membership lapel buttons carrying the message "I'm On Board" are being worn by Y-Teen members and new members.

A feature of the event will be the initiation of an international scrapbook project to enable American teen-agers to further relations with teen-agers of other countries. Y-Teens of 14 United States will prepare the scrapbooks as a group project. The books will include outstanding events of their lives, their community and their organization to tell the story of American youth abroad. Teen-agers in 40 countries are expected to participate and send their material to the U.S.

This year's Y-Teen Roll Call includes a round-up Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock to which all girls from 12-17 years of age are invited.

President's Conference With Dulles Emphasizes Foreign Policy Strength

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomats today viewed President Eisenhower's sickbed talk with Secretary of State Dulles as a dramatic bid to emphasize the absence of any U.S. foreign policy lag on the eve of the Big Four conference.

Dulles flew back to Washington last night after a 25-minute discussion of eight key points with Eisenhower at Denver. The secretary described Eisenhower's suggestions as "extremely helpful."

More tangibly, the conference produced Eisenhower's interim reply to a letter from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin which had criticized Eisenhower's proposal to swap U.S. and Russian military data as a step toward disarmament.

But an underlying purpose of the trip was described by diplomatic sources as an effort to:

Dulles Not Weakened
1. Allay Western fears that Dulles will be in a weakened position

IOOF OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

The semi-annual installation of officers of Sylvania Lodge, IOOF, was held Monday evening in the lodge rooms on E. King St. District Deputy Grand Master Roy L. Hann conducted the installation, assisted by District Deputy Grand Marshal Ernest R. Senti, District Deputy Grand Warden Edward F. Hawk and District Deputy Grand Chaplain Edward K. Parr.

Officers installed include: Acting past grand, Richard L. Stultz; noble grand, Melvin A. Miller; vice grand, Charles E. Bupp. Appointive officers of the noble grand: Right supporter, Edward F. Hawk; left supporter, Ralph L. Snyder; warden, Clarence O. Bankert; conductor, Edward K. Parr; right scene supporter, Robert E. Gitt; left scene supporter, Lewis Lippy; chaplain, Stanley M. Staub; outside guardian, Earl L. Bish; inside guardian, Edward Plunkert. Appointive officers of the vice grand: Right supporter, Roy L. Hann, and left supporter, Wade H. Brown.

Officers reelected for the ensuing term: Financial secretary, Ernest R. Senti; recording secretary, Maurice C. Wareheim; treasurer, Harry T. Harner; trustee, Charles E. Bupp; representative to the Odd Fellows Home at Middletown, Maurice C. Wareheim; representative to the annual grand lodge session, Roy L. Hann.

Refreshments were served by R. L. Snyder, C. O. Bankert and E. F. Hawk.

tion at the Oct. 27 foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva on account of Eisenhower's relaxed hold on the reins of leadership as he recovers from his Sept. 24 heart attack.

2. Head off any Russian attempt to blame Eisenhower's illness and consequent loss of close contact with foreign affairs as the reason for any East-West disagreements at Geneva.

Dulles appeared anxious at a news conference he held in Denver yesterday to underscore Eisenhower's role in their bedside chat. It was just like any other foreign policy talk with the President, he said, and added:

"He was interested, alert and helpful with respect to all the matters we discussed."

May Return To Denver
Dulles said he may go back to Denver before leaving Oct. 22 for Geneva. He has an appointment Oct. 20 with key congressional leaders, whom he will brief on Geneva policy.

Aside from the Bulganin letter, Dulles said he talked with Eisenhower about preparations for the Big Four meeting. But he would not say anything about the six other points he said had been taken up with the President.

It was reported, however, six other potentially critical problems of primary concern to Dulles at this time include:

1. Asst. Secretary George V. Allen's report on the troubled Middle East. Allen came back Friday from a rush trip to Cairo where he talked with Egyptian leaders who contracted to buy arms from Communist Czechoslovakia.

'Too Bossy'
2. Dep. Asst. Secretary Robert D. Murphy's report on his talks with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia. Tito has complained that U.S. officials are too bossy in administering U.S. military aid inside Yugoslavia.

3. Communist progress in identifying communism with Asian-African opposition to colonialism.

4. France's North African difficulties.

5. U. S. Ambassador Alexis Johnson's efforts in negotiations with the Red Chinese at Geneva, to win freedom for 19 Americans still imprisoned inside China.

6. Greek-Turkish quarrels over independence of the island of Cyprus from Britain.

Mrs. Marie Keller gave a talk on Mooseheart, "The children's home," the organization plans to enter the Halloween parade in Gettysburg. Guests were Mrs. Loretta Eyer, senior parent from the Chambersburg Chapter, and Mrs. Lola Roqueport, member of the college of regents, also from Chambersburg. Initiations were held.

Mrs. Rita Lee won the door prize and the chapter night award went to Mrs. Catherine Kunt. Mrs.

PRINCESS MAY MEET TOWNSEND

LONDON (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend was due in London tonight. Princess Margaret tomorrow morning.

This much was fact. All else was speculation.

Is this the week of decision for the pretty sister of Queen Elizabeth II?

Will the world be told at last that she plans to marry the poor but handsome flying man—or that she doesn't?

Will they meet publicly for the first time in three years?

Outside the inner circle, nobody knows.

Even the brasher morning newspapers were reduced to telling the story in the form of questions and guesses.

Townsend On Leave

Townsend, on leave until Nov. 7 from his post of British air attaché at Brussels, reached Le Touquet Airport at Paris today en route to London.

The princess is coming by train from the royal castle at Balmoral, Scotland, where she spent her summer vacation.

Townsend declined to tell newsmen where he will stay or what engagements he has made in England.

The princess, with the Queen and other members of the royal family, will dine next Wednesday with the Archbishop of Canterbury, ecclesiastical head of the Church of England.

Church Opposes Wedding

The church officially opposes the remarriage of divorced persons whose ex-spouses are still alive. Townsend is a divorced man. He was the innocent party in the divorce action, but the church makes no exceptions.

The Daily Mirror, noting that Queen Mother Elizabeth also would attend the archbishop's dinner, remarked:

"Those who believe a decision for or against the princess's marriage is pending think the dinner would be an ideal occasion for a conference on the subject."

DIABETIC CAN LOSE LICENSE

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Bedford County Court has ruled the state Department of Revenue is empowered to revoke a truckdriver's license because he was involved in an accident while in a diabetic coma.

Judge Richard C. Snyder, in a decision yesterday, turned down an appeal by Frederick N. McClellan, 23, of Bedford. The judge said, however, that McClellan should be permitted to operate his own car.

McClellan lapsed into a coma at the wheel of a large truck loaded with steel while driving into Johnstown. The truck crashed into a bus, injuring 25 persons last Dec. 23.

The court said McClellan had been a diabetic for eight years before the crash, and had presented testimony by his doctor that he would "now rigidly adhere to a schedule of treatment necessary to prevent a recurrence of coma."

Judge Snyder said he interpreted the law to mean that only a restricted license could be issued to McClellan.

Today's Talk

ADJUSTMENTS

To live out a useful and happy life one of the secrets — few ever appreciate — is that of adjustment to situations and circumstances. Those who refuse to do this have none to blame but themselves for their irregular happiness.

In our economical life we have to make these adjustments continually. Why not then in our personal affairs, especially those that affect others? Fundamentally we are all of us much alike. We differ in ideas, personal likes and dislikes, and adjustments have to be made in order to get on well with associates and even friends.

Then there are those adjustments we have to make because of the loss of near and dear ones. For a time we become confused, we shove our faith aside and fear to trust our own judgment. At such a time prayer is one of the great instruments to guide us back to a normal and happy life. In the loss of a job there are always adjustments to be made — but how many times such a loss is a blessing in disguise!

We never know when misfortune is apt to strike us down for a period. It is well always to be looking ahead and making adjustments from time to time, so that we remain the master of our circumstances. Faith should become a companion of ours throughout life. Keep freshening it!

None of us is as successful and happy as it is possible for us to be. An all too small portion of the time and ability is put to action. If you kept a diary and entered there nothing but what you had actually accomplished for that day, you would soon wake up to the knowledge of how little is really achieved.

We need to keep making adjustments that will enable us to make the most of ourselves and of life. When Liberace was unknown, and playing the piano in night clubs and other places for just a living, he kept thinking of the time when he would play before millions.

as he is today. His early adjustments gave him the courage to go on and to reap the harvest of his dreams.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: 'Keep Adventuring.'

SORROWFUL BAD AXE

There's heartache in Bad Axe, of Michigan's thumb.
For years they have known it was certain to come.

There are lumps in the throats of the young and the old.
Verona's gay locker room's silent and sold.

The eyes that once twinkled, with mist now are dimmed.
The barber of Bad Axe at golf has been trimmed.

A slicker from Florida's Miami Beach
Whose golf is the sort good professionals teach.

With the costliest clubs and the sportiest dress,
A shirt just as bright as a sunrise—no less—

And wearing a ten-dollar cap, if you please,
Played the barber of Bad Axe and combed him with ease.

A Florida slicker! A dude, if you choose,
Who's never been noted for giving shampoos.

A stranger who might have just dropped in from Mars
Kept nipping the barber of Bad Axe with pars.

At half-staff the flags of the county were waved.
Once over lightly the barber was shaved.

Public Records Win Custody Of Papers

HARRISBURG — A Senate-passed resolution urges that all records of the upper chamber compiled between 1822 and 1910 be placed in custody of the Division of Public Records in the State Historical and Museum Commission.

Seis. Stiefel (D-Phila) and Chapman (D-Warren) sponsored the resolution, passed Monday, to transfer the records now held in the Senate transcribing room.

on the bench, in solitary dignity among a flock of wildly excited ball players, the Athletics put up a power-plus exhibition of baseball to rout the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 1, in the sixth game of the world series.

Many Persons Own Two Autos In This Area: Almost a thousand persons in Adams county own two or more automobiles. It was revealed today by data compiled by Benjamin G. Eynon, commissioner of motor vehicles for the state. There are 3,281 passenger automobiles registered in Adams county but there are only 7,353 automobile owners. The difference is explained by the fact that some owners have two or more automobiles.

ATOMIC CHIEF
QUERIES DIXON
YATES POWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has conceded publicly for the first time that "there may be a question as to the validity" of the Dixon-Yates contract.

He said in an Oct. 7 letter made public Monday by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) that any cancellation payment to the Dixon-Yates power group is being held up while the question of validity is studied intensively.

Both Edgar H. Dixon and Eugene A. Yates, heads of the two major utility companies involved, renewed their contentions that the now-abandoned contract was a valid one.

No Cancellation Fee Due
Anderson, chairman of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, said in a statement that AEC now appeared to be moving toward the position he has maintained all long. He has contended it never was a binding obligation on the government, and that no cancellation fee was due Dixon-Yates.

The AEC consistently has maintained heretofore that the contract became legally effective some time last winter.

The contract was negotiated by AEC last year at President Eisenhower's direction. It called for a 107-million-dollar plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA electricity and used elsewhere by AEC.

On July 11 this year the President directed that the contract be terminated and the AEC has been conducting negotiations looking toward a final settlement of the contract since that time. If it is binding, the government is obligated to pay costs incurred by the Dixon-Yates group. There have been estimates these could run to several million dollars.

By TOM OCHILTREE

MARGATE, England (AP) — Labor party leader Clement Attlee said Tuesday he believes the chances of a disarmament agreement among the world's big powers are better than ever.

The 72-year-old former prime minister told the annual Labor party conference this is because all countries now realize that "a major war leaves no victors."

Attlee, making his first public appearance since a recent illness, accused Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government of dodging the issue in refusing to cut the nation's two year military service term.

Army Reduction
Eden announced last week that Britain would reduce her armed service by 100,000 men in the next three years by a gradual raising of the draft age.

Attlee renewed his party's demand for an outright ban on the H-bomb and for big power talks on general disarmament.

The conference then adopted formal resolutions calling for an unspecified reduction in Britain's military service period and for speedy U.N. action to secure an arms reduction and the banning of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

Bevan Proposal Rejected
Left wing resolutions put forward by supporters of Aneurin Bevan calling for Britain to stop making H-bombs even if other countries do not were rejected after deputy party leader Herbert Morrison declared the Labor party could not follow any tactics which would weaken this nation's ties with the United States.

The moderate wing of the party had scored a triumph earlier when Hugh Gaitskell resoundingly defeated Bevan for the post of treasurer of the party.

The vote was 5,475,000 for Gaitskell, 40, former chancellor of the exchequer, to 1,225,000 for the fiery Welsh orator.

Legion Expands Plans For Gettysburg Event

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state American Legion will hold its annual midyear conference next Jan. 21-22 in Altoona or Bedford instead of Harrisburg.

State Commander John F. Stay, Philadelphia, said Monday the meeting time and place were changed because of expanded plans for an American Legion memorial service November 11 at Gettysburg National Cemetery. The mid-year meeting was to have been held in conjunction with the Gettysburg service.

The Gettysburg service will substitute for ceremonies formerly held by the Legion at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Drag Susquehanna To Find 2 Bodies

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dragging operations in the Susquehanna River were renewed Tuesday in search of the bodies of two fishermen presumed drowned when their boat overturned near here Sunday.

The two victims were Thomas J. Hoffman, 45, and Oscar C. Bessner, 39, both veteran employees of the Reading Railroad's nearby Rutherford yards.

The two set out for a day of fishing in the river Sunday. Their overturned boat was found later in the day near the Dock Street dam.

IRAN TO JOIN
WEST AGAINST SOVIET UNION

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran lined up officially today with the Western-backed Middle East defense alliance, closing a major gap in the anti-Communist world's defense chain south of the Soviet Union.

The Iranian government announced its adherence to the Baghdad Pact, which already unites Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan and Britain in a mutual defense agreement.

With Iran, the Middle Eastern group forms a solid land belt from the Mediterranean to the Himalayas. The North Atlantic Alliance extends the chain on across southern and western Europe, the Atlantic and North America.

Premier Hussein Ala announced he had sent a Foreign Ministry official to the Baghdad headquarters of the Middle East pact with a note advising that the Iranian government would submit its adherence to the treaty to Parliament for ratification.

Need Approval
Approval of both houses of Parliament is necessary, but the Shah's strong support of the treaty was believed to assure its ratification.

Opening the Senate Oct. 8, the ruler said: "It is fitting that my government take the necessary steps and precautions for the defense of our frontiers as well as for safeguarding the rights of our country."

One informed source said Iran would formally announce its joining the alliance "before the Geneva conference" of the Big Four foreign ministers, scheduled to open Oct. 27. The timing, said the source, stemmed from an "obvious" reason—presumably a desire to strengthen the hands of the Western Big Three at the parity.

Iranian adherence to the pact is certain to arouse the ire of her Soviet neighbors on the north.

Dandelions are found most abundantly on the warmest areas of the ground and buried heating pipelines often can be traced by their concentration.

Leader Names New Laurelton Trustees

HARRISBURG (AP) — Five appointees of Gov. Leader, named to replace members of the board of trustees at Laurelton State Village who resigned, had Senate confirmation Tuesday.

Confirmed Monday night were Park L. Hoffman, West Milton; Mrs. Marie S. Prunell, Milliford; R. Spangler, Matamoras; Beavertown; Dr. Robert C. Parall, Springfield, Delaware County and Dr. Duane Ramsey, University Park.

The Senate also confirmed these appointees to the advisory hospital council.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, state health secretary; George E. Hamilton, Meadville; Mark M. Walter, Wayne; J. Frank McKenna Jr., Pittsburgh; C. Jared Ingersoll, Philadelphia, and Dr. Donald G. Smetzer, Lancaster.

419 DISTRICTS
AWAIT OUTCOME
OF WAGE TAX

HARRISBURG (AP) — The future financial structure of 419 municipalities in Pennsylvania depending on a wage tax on non-residents to keep their budget balanced hinged today on the outcome of a Senate measure to remove non-residents from being subjected to such levies.

In a position for a final Senate vote, the Republican-sponsored legislation would end local wage taxes on non-residents such as those in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at the end of 1955.

School districts would not be affected by the measure.

Sen. Barr (D-Allegheny) described as "moonlight madness" a disorderly Senate session which bordered on chaos Monday night.

A rash of amendments, coupled with angry debate and sarcastic interruptions, brought about repeated blows of the gavel by the presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Furman.

Demand Adherence To Issue
The parliamentary confusion was further compounded by demands for points of order from both sides of the aisle that the speakers stop straying away from wage taxes to talk about everything from how a florist goes about buying flowers in Pittsburgh to the results of the 1947 election campaign.

The action on the wage tax bill started mildly enough. Sen. Kopriv (D-Allegheny) took to the floor to support his original measure to bar Pittsburgh from imposing its wage levy on non-residents.

Barr, a Pittsburgher who is closely associated with Mayor David L. Lawrence, then offered amendments taking away from all other cities, boroughs and townships, except Philadelphia, wage tax privileges on non-residents.

Then Sen. Watkins (R-Delaware), inserted an amendment to repeal the Quaker City's impost on non-residents.

Termed Fiasco
By that time, Sen. Dent, Democratic floor leader, termed the snowballing confusion an "unintelligible fiasco" and lost a fight to require the state to make up to municipalities any revenue lost from such a move.

His last-ditch attempt to recommend the measure fell by a straight party vote—Democrats for and Republicans against.

Dent hinted however that the bill, if passed by the Senate, would likely be pigeonholed by the Democratic-controlled House—but not before he attacked former Harris, Emsworth, removed from office; Miss Elinor A. Sigel, Pittsburgh, vice Mrs. Mary D. Phillips, Pittsburgh, removed from office; Mrs. Margaret B. McBride, Pittsburgh, vice Frank W. Ittel, Pittsburgh, resigned.

The new trustees were nominated for terms of four years.

Fairview Patient Knives Supervisor

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — An inmate at Fairview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane attacked a 79-year-old assistant superintendent with a sharpened nail Monday but guards subdued the man before any injury was inflicted.

Dr. Asa L. Hickok was attacked as he made his daily inspection tour of Ward W. The patient said he wanted to be conducted to the front gate of the institution.

It marked the third incident at the hospital in a week. Pennsylvania state police still are seeking two of six inmates who fled the hospital last Tuesday.

Sun Oil Co. Opens Anti-Trust Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Sun Oil Co. Monday opened its defense against an anti-trust suit by maintaining that its business practices are not restrictive, as maintained by government attorneys.

Joseph W. Henderson, counsel for Sun Oil, told federal court Judge J. Cullen Gahey Sun will show it can completely disprove the government charges that allege exclusive contracts with 10,000 gas station operators.

The government completed its case in May after calling 114 witnesses. The trial has been in recess since then.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Argument over how much meat was in a 35-cent stew resulted in the fatal stabbing yesterday of a luncheon counterman, police said. They were seeking a man known only as "Sam" for the slaying. Police said he stabbed Ira S. York of Eagleville, Montgomery county, after York ejected him from the luncheon room when he complained there was no meat in the stew.

CAB PROPOSES AIRLINE STOPS FOR 28 CITIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed that 28 cities on the routes of Allegheny Airlines be made permanent stops and six others should receive seasonal certificates.

The board's action Monday completed initial steps for arranging permanent certification of 13 of the 14 local service airlines, as provided in legislation adopted recently by Congress.

Proposed for permanent certification were these Pennsylvania cities: Altoona, Johnstown, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Lancaster, Oil City, Franklin, Bradford, Clearfield-DuBois-Philipsburg, Bellefonte, State College, Williamsport and Erie.

Seasonal certificates proposed included those for Philadelphia-Camden, N.J., and temporary two-year certificates were proposed for Cumberland and Easton-Cambridge Md., and Lock Haven, Pa.

Other permanent certificates proposed included those for Hagerstown and Salisbury, Md., and Wheeling, Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va.

Seasonal Certificates

Meanwhile, President Leslie O. Barnes of Allegheny testified Monday at a CAB hearing that extension of the carrier's system from Erie, Pa., to Detroit would benefit eight industrial centers in Pennsylvania.

He listed them as Erie, Bradford, Williamsport, Franklin-Oil City, Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, DuBois, Clearfield-Philipsburg, State College-Bellefonte, Harrisburg-York, and Lancaster.

Barnes testimony was given at the opening of hearing on proposals by Allegheny and three other carriers to provide the Erie-Detroit service. The others are Mohawk Airlines, Lake Central Airlines and North Central Airlines.

Mohawk proposes to provide the new service by extending one of its routes from Bradford, Pa., through Erie to Detroit and from Buffalo, N. Y., to Erie.

Lake Central has applied for authority to operate from Youngstown, Ohio, through Erie to Buffalo and from Erie to Detroit. North Central seeks extension from Detroit through Erie to Buffalo.

Fairview Patient Knives Supervisor

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — An inmate at Fairview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane attacked a 79-year-old assistant superintendent with a sharpened nail Monday but guards subdued the man before any injury was inflicted.

Dr. Asa L. Hickok was attacked as he made his daily inspection tour of Ward W. The patient said he wanted to be conducted to the front gate of the institution.

It marked the third incident at the hospital in a week. Pennsylvania state police still are seeking two of six inmates who fled the hospital last Tuesday.

Texas Christian And West Virginia Are Top Teams In Passing And Offensive Gains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
West Virginia and Texas Christian are major college football's statistical leaders and the chances are such former stars as Ira Errett Rodgers, Sammy Baugh and Davey O'Brien would do a flip if they noted how their colleges got to the top.

Rodgers, West Virginia's only authentic All America player, was quite a passer in his time, but in 1919 they didn't toss the ball around the way three Mountaineer quarterbacks are doing it these days. West Virginia has gained nearly half its yardage in the air to lead the nation in passing and in total offense.

Baugh and O'Brien were two of the greatest passers when the Southwest Conference was famed for its aerial antics. Now their school, Texas Christian, is tops in rushing and has averaged only eight pass attempts a game.

Few Repeaters
These are a couple of notable changes brought out today by the NCAA Service Bureau's team of statisticians. As long as such records have been kept, neither West Virginia nor TCU has finished in the top 10 in the departments in which they now lead. And the tabulation of leaders shows very few repeaters even from last season.

West Virginia, with Fred Wyant, Mickey Trimarki and Alex Sauch tossing, has averaged 209.3 yards per game through the air — 628 yards on 32 passes — and has one of the top completion averages.

In three victories, the Mountaineers have piled up 1,298 yards, an average of 432.7 a game as compared to 414 for second-place Illinois. In passing alone, Texas, the only Southwest team that still relies mainly on aerials, in second with a comparatively puny 165.5 yards per game and Drake is third with 160.5 yards.

Is Running Team
Texas Christian has run the ball on 247 of its 279 plays for a total of 1,337 yards and an average of 334.9 yards per game. That, plus just 155 yards by passing, was enough to give TCU sixth place in over-all ground gaining with a 373-yard average.

No other leader has gained as much as 1,000 yards by rushing. Army, the former leader, has 988 for an average of 329.3 per game. Oklahoma is third in both rushing and total offense with 324.3 yards per game on the ground and 387.3 over-all.

A natural result of West Virginia's offensive record is that the Mountaineers lead in scoring. They've gone at a rate of 42 points a game as compared to Army's 39.3, Duke's 33.7, Harvard's 33.5 and Notre's 33.0.

MANILA BOXER COMING TO U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Gabriel (Flash) Elorde, the Manila boxer who upset featherweight champion Sandy Saddler July 20 in a nontitle bout amidst flying pop bottles, is coming to the United States to try for the big prize.

Elorde has been matched with Carmelo Costa, flashy Brooklyn youngster, for a Nov. 11 date at Madison Square Garden. Matchmaker Billy Brown hopes to pair the winner with Saddler in a championship fight. Sandy last defended in February and is overdue, if a suitable opponent can be produced.

Schedules Four Bouts
Brown announced four Garden matches today for the new season. A Gil Turner-Isaac Logart bout Oct. 21 already had been scheduled.

For the Oct. 28 date, Brown has paired Lulu Perez, winner over Bobby Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass., Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena, and Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif.

Willie Pastrano, clever New Orleans light heavy, will make his New York debut Nov. 18 at the Garden against Joe Rowan of Philadelphia. Pastrano won over Joey Maxim and Paddy Young in two recent starts.

Eduardo Lausso, the scowling Argentine with the solid left hook, is paired with Gene Pullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in the Nov. 25 Garden show. Lausso is due from Argentina soon.

OLYMPIC POINT SYSTEM FEARED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Who is going to win the 1956 Olympic Games at Melbourne, the United States or Russia?

American sports fans find that question a good topic for spirited debate. But members of the International Olympic Committee find it a fearsome thing, a danger to their cherished ideals of Olympic competition.

Today, with physical arrangements for the Melbourne games nearing completion, the men behind the Olympics are turning their attention more and more to the fierce nationalism that sparks the question and keeps it alive.

"The Olympic Games are contests between individuals," President Avery Brundage of the International Committee said today. "They are not—and they must not become—contests between nations to decide the superiority of one nation over another, or of one political system over another."

Brundage and Lewis Lutton, chairman of the organizing committee for next year's games, pleaded with newsmen to do what they could to abolish—or at least minimize—the use of any unofficial point system to determine the leading teams in Olympic competition.

STUDY YOUTH, VISUAL AIDS

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—Better church use of visual aids and the problems of youth are two topics due to receive intensive study at the 93rd annual state Sunday School convention opening Tuesday.

Some 2,000 delegates from 92 of the state's 67 counties and representing some 3 million members of 19 Protestant denominations are expected to attend sessions during the three-day meeting.

Sunbury Mayor Fred E. Hoffman was to welcome convention delegates. The keynote speaker was Dr. Edward L. R. Eason, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C., which President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended when in the Capital.

Also on the opening day agenda were the president's talk by the Rev. Clyde W. Meadows of Chambersburg, president of the State Council of Christian Education, Departmental workshops, which will take in various age and sex problems of youth, were set for the afternoon sessions Tuesday and today.

Dr. R. B. Mowrer, Chambersburg, is chairman of the state convention committee.

Trade statisticians say the U. S. auto wash business had 100 million customers last year and took in 120 million dollars.

SOONER CENTER IS SELECTED AS WEEK'S LINEMAN

By TED MEIER
The Associated Press
Jerry Tubbs, center of Oklahoma's unbeaten football team, was selected today as the Associated Press lineman of the week by a narrow margin over Pat Bisceglia, Notre Dame guard.

Tubbs used his 205 pounds to good advantage in helping the Sooners extend their winning streak to 22 games by whipping Texas 20-0. He almost single handedly broke up Texas' aerial game by intercepting three passes. One set up a Sooner score, the others cut short Texas threats.

A slashing linebacker, the 20-year-old junior was credited with 20 jarring tackles. At one time he made four in a row. Terry Brennan, Notre Dame coach, did not hesitate to praise his 190-pound senior Bisceglia, runner-up in the votes cast by sports writers and broadcasters.

"Deserves" Selection
"Bisceglia deserves being lineman of the week," said Brennan after the Irish had beaten Miami 14-0 Friday night.

As linebacker, the Wooster, Mass., lad made 11 tackles and assisted in 4 others as the Irish stopped four Miami threats within the Notre Dame 15. He recovered a Miami fumble, too.

In addition, Pat called the defense signals and, on offense, led the blockers as Notre Dame continually hit the Miami right side for substantial gains. Andy Gustafson, Miami coach, called Bisceglia "tremendous."

Two more linebackers, centers Don Karnosack of Colorado and Don Pellegrini of Maryland, won much backing in the poll.

Florence Chadwick Sets Channel Mark

CALAIS, France (AP)—Florence Chadwick, the San Diego, Calif., long distance swimmer, set a record of 13 hours, 55 minutes in her England-to-France swim across the English Channel which ended early today.

Mrs. K. V. Lowe, an official observer who timed the swim, said this topped 11 minutes off the previous east bound mark set earlier this year by England's Bill Pickering.

The 35-year-old Miss Chadwick, who had swum the channel both ways in previous seasons, had hoped to make a nonstop round trip this time, but gave up because of the cold water.

POLICE PROBE MYSTERY DEATH

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Montgomery County authorities had a first class mystery on their hands today: The identity of a young man found dead on a steep embankment near here and the cause of his death.

The body was discovered yesterday by Anthony Palombo, 65, a truck driver for the Philadelphia and Western Co., a suburban Philadelphia transit line. It was propped against a tree beside the tracks, a short distance from the P&W's Conshohocken Rd. station.

Authorities said a postmortem failed to show a definite cause of death. They forwarded the contents of a half filled jar of fluid found in photography work to the police crime laboratory in Philadelphia along with the stomach contents. Fingerprints of the dead man were sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington.

There was a small cut under the man's left eye and on the back of the head. The body was dressed in brand new clothing. A shirt tag bore the label of a Syracuse, N. Y. store. Police discovered a wallet containing $3 in a coat pocket, but there were no papers that could help in identification.

County Coroner Dr. John C. Simpson said the man was between 25 and 30 years old, weighed 165 pounds, and was 5-foot-11. He was described as "nice looking" with light brown hair.

SENATE VOTES PAY INCREASE FOR TEACHERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate cast partisanship aside early today in a 49-0 vote to put up the money for an extra $150 a year pay rise for teachers in each of the next two years.

Funds for the salary boost were incorporated into a $425 million dollar appropriation for school districts, many of which are financially strapped because of a delay in state aid.

Although both Republicans and Democrats joined in the Senate compromise, the huge appropriation faced an uncertain future in the Democratic-controlled House.

There were a number of empty Senate seats when the roll was called. Absentee senators were recorded voting for the bill under a "consent calendar" agreement under which, although absent, their votes were recorded on non-controversial legislation.

May Await Tax Pact
Sen. Seyler (D-York), who co-sponsored the teachers' pay rise, said he personally felt that the House should resist the appropriation until Republicans agree with Democrats on a tax plan to pay for it.

It was Seyler and Sen. Hays (D-Centre) who accomplished the feat of indirectly putting both Republicans and Democrats on record in favor of the salary increase.

Although withdrawing from a previous $4 million dollar figure to finance an extra $200 a year pay boost, the two Democrats devised the compromise that:

1. Tacked 31 million dollars on an original appropriation of 421 million dollars for general state aid to schools in the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1.
2. Earmarked in effect, about 28 million dollars for increased salaries.

Earmarked For Teachers
3. Restored nearly 3 million dollars of a 5 million dollar cut asked by the GOP on bonuses to school districts for jointures, mergers and consolidation.

The effect of the Seyler-Hays amendments was to earmark the money for teachers to be spent if and when the Legislature adopts enabling legislation pinpointing the $150 a year teacher salary boost.

The tentative salary increase would be in addition to an automatic $200 a year hike most of Pennsylvania's 65,000 teachers will receive this year and next under previous laws.

In another development, a Senate committee cleared for floor action a proposed constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions of the Legislature.

It is different from a House-passed version that already has been approved by the 1953 Legislature in that it limits the session to one summer session, to 40 days. The other version had no limit.

The Senate also passed a measure to give the state a permanent right to sue for damages in cases involving the state's interest in the Erie Canal.

Lock Haven Will Face Major Test

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Lock Haven's leaders of the Pennsylvania Teachers Colleges Football Conference face a major test Saturday against West Chester.

The Eagles, with three wins in three starts, lead the conference with a total of 233 points on the competitive rating system. West Chester has not played a conference game but is always a tough contender in the league and has not lost to Lock Haven since the league was formed in 1951.

The game is at Lock Haven. Another clash of unbeaten teams brings Slippery Rock to Indiana, and the loser must drop out of the present second-place tie with Bloomsburg and Clarion, the other unbeaten teams.

Also on the schedule for Saturday are Shippensburg (1-1-0) at California (0-0-0) and Cheyney (0-0-1) at Millersville (1-1-0).

20 CANADIAN PLAYERS FINED; ONE IS OUSTED

CALGARY (AP)—Trouble rocked Canadian pro football today—The Calgary Stampeders are sure they lost a game because a player tipped off the opposition, and the Ottawa Rough Riders are shaking up their roster after fining 20 players $200 each for sub-par performances.

The Stampeders yesterday fired guard Dean Bandiera after accusing him of revealing their plays to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. The Bombers won 13-12 in the game played Saturday.

Bandiera denied the charge. "I'm innocent of everything they accuse me of," he said. "Just because I happen to be friendly with a certain player on the Winnipeg team, they accuse me of divulging plays."

There was no comment from the Winnipeg club owners or players. The Ottawa players were fined $100 for each of the last two games. The club announcement said the fines were imposed "for failure to exhibit the caliber of football of which the players are capable."

The announcement added "immediate steps are being taken to secure replacements in an endeavor to strengthen the team."

The Big Four club did not identify the players or reveal how many American imports were involved. Ottawa lost both games.

Jones And Andrews In TV Bout Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, seventh ranked middleweight contender, fights Al Andrews tonight for television boxing fans.

Jones, never knocked off his feet in 53 fights, is an 8-5 favorite. The bout will be televised (ABC) from Miami's Dinner Key Auditorium beginning at 9 p.m. (EST).

Jones has been enjoying a good year after losing five in a row last year. He has a victory over Sugar Ray Robinson. Other victims include Chas. Christensen, Ernie Durando and George Johnson.

He lost this year to middleweight champion Bobo Olson and Eduardo Lamas. His record includes 36 wins, 14 losses and three draws.

Andrews, unranked, has a record of 49 victories, 14 losses and two draws.

TRABERT SIGNS PRO CONTRACT WITH KRAMER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Top tennis player Tony Trabert today faced a new and strenuous career on the courts of the world and a chance to earn $100,000 as a newly turned professional.

The strapping 25-year-old star from Cincinnati, the 1955 Wimbledon and United States amateur champion, formally signed a 16-month contract to play for and against promoter Jack Kramer.

Trabert sat back to await word from two other prospective members of the tour, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad of Australian Davis Cup fame.

Kramer said the two young Aussies have until Oct. 17 to make up their minds about quitting the amateur ranks. He said he believes they will accept his terms, a reported $50,000 apiece.

Has Two Clauses
Kramer admitted the Trabert contract was better than the $75,000 he guaranteed Frank Sedgman of Australia several years ago, and he said that if all goes well, crew-cropped Tony should gross $100,000 for the 200 matches he faces.

Kramer also revealed that Trabert's contract has two clauses, one contingent on a two-man tour with himself, and the other and better one based on the presence of the two young Aussies. Kramer, 34, may be in for rough competition.

In Manila, Hoad acknowledged Kramer had offered him about $50,000 but that he wouldn't make a decision until he returned to Australia later this week. Rosewall said he would not decide until he talked to his parents.

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955 baseball season was not a complete bust for the Pittsburgh Pirates after all. They had the National League's earned run leader in Bob Friend, their 24-year-old right-hander.

And that's not all. Friend becomes the first major league pitcher in history (earned runs were first tabulated in 1912) to finish on top in ERA while performing for a last-place club.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that Friend gave up 63 earned runs in 200 innings for an earned run mark of 2.84. He had a 14-9 won-lost record.

Lefty Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox paced the American League with a 1.97 earned run average. He yielded 45 earned tallies in 206 frames while winning 15 games and losing 10.

Had 2 Shutouts
Friend, who produced 2 shutouts and had 9 complete games, is the first Pirate hurler to lead in earned run averages since Cy Bianton topped the National League with 2.59 in 1935.

Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves finished second to Friend in the National. He permitted 72 earned runs in 202 innings for a 3.21 ERA. Buhl won 13 games and dropped 11.

Don Newcombe of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers was third with 3.23. Warren Spahn, the Braves' veteran southpaw, was fourth with 3.26. He was followed by Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, 3.30; Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants, 3.35; and Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati, 3.47.

Ford Is Runner-up
Whitney Ford of the New York Yankees was runner-up to Pierce in the American. He permitted 74 earned runs in 254 frames for a 2.62 ERA. He had 18 victories against 7 setbacks.

Early Wynn of Cleveland was third with 2.82. Then came Frank Sullivan, Boston Red Sox, 2.91; Herb Score, Cleveland, 2.93; and Billy Hoef, Detroit, with 2.99.

Pierce, 28, produced 6 shutouts and 16 complete games. His earned run mark is the lowest in the majors since Hal Newhouse of Detroit finished with 1.94 in 1946.

SENATE VOTES PAY INCREASE FOR TEACHERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate cast partisanship aside early today in a 49-0 vote to put up the money for an extra $150 a year pay rise for teachers in each of the next two years.

Funds for the salary boost were incorporated into a $25 million dollar appropriation for school districts, many of which are financially strapped because of a delay in state aid.

Although both Republicans and Democrats joined in the Senate compromise, the huge appropriation faced an uncertain future in the Democratic-controlled House.

There were a number of empty Senate seats when the roll was called. Absentee senators were recorded voting for the bill under a "consent calendar" agreement under which, although absent, their votes were recorded on non-controversial legislation.

May Await Tax Pact
Sen. Seyler (D-York), who co-sponsored the teachers' pay rise, said he personally felt that the House should sit on the appropriation until Republicans agree with Democrats on a tax plan to pay for it.

It was Seyler and Sen. Hays (D-Centre) who accomplished the feat of indirectly putting both Republicans and Democrats on record in favor of the salary increase.

Although withdrawing from a previous $4 million dollar figure to finance an extra $200 a year pay boost, the two Democrats devised the compromise that:

1. Tackled 31 million dollars on an original appropriation of 421 million dollars for general state aid to schools in the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1.

2. Earmarked in effect, about 28 million dollars for increased salaries.

Earmarked For Teachers
3. Restored nearly 3 million dollars of a 3 million dollar cut asked by the GOP on bonuses to school districts for jointures, mergers and consolidation.

The effect of the Seyler-Hays amendments was to earmark the money for teachers to be spent if enabling legislation pinpointing the money for the Legislature adopts and when the Legislature adopts enabling legislation pinpointing the money for the Legislature adopts and when the Legislature adopts enabling legislation pinpointing the money for the Legislature adopts.

The tentative salary increase would be in addition to an automatic $200 a year hike most of Pennsylvania's 65,000 teachers will receive this year and next under previous laws.

In another development, a Senate committee cleared for floor action a proposed constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions of the Legislature.

It is different from a House-passed version that already has been approved by the 1953 Legislature in that it limits the session in even-numbered years to 60 days. The other version had no limit.

The Senate, after its postmidnight session on school appropriations, recessed until Friday. The House returns to Harrisburg tomorrow.

Tickets Here For Middletown Game

General admission tickets for the Gettysburg High School-Middletown football game to be played Friday evening at Middletown have been placed on sale at the principal's office at the high school.

There will be no reserved seats on sale. General admission tickets sell for 75 cents and student tickets for 35 cents. Students purchasing tickets at the field will be required to pay adult prices.

Lock Haven Will Face Major Test

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Lock Haven's leaders of the Pennsylvania Teachers Colleges Football Conference face a major test Saturday against West Chester.

The Eagles, with three wins in three starts, lead the conference with a total of 233 points on the competitive rating system. West Chester has not played a conference game but is always a tough contender in the league and has not lost to Lock Haven since the league was formed in 1951.

The game is at Lock Haven. Another clash of unbeaten teams brings Slippery Rock to Indiana, and the loser must drop out of the present second-place tie with Bloomsburg and Clarion, the other unbeaten teams.

Also on the schedule for Saturday are Shippensburg (1-1-0) at California (0-2-0) and Cheyney (0-0-1) at Millersville (1-1-0).

20 CANADIAN PLAYERS FINED; ONE IS OUSTED

CALGARY (AP)—Trouble rocked Canadian pro football today—The Calgary Stampeders are sure they lost a game because a player tipped off the opposition, and the Ottawa Rough Riders are shaking up their roster after fining 20 players $200 each for sub-par performances.

The Stampeders yesterday fined guard Dean Bandiera after accusing him of revealing their plays to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. The Bombers won 13-12 in the game played Saturday.

Bandiera denied the charge. "I'm innocent of everything they accuse me of," he said. "Just because I happen to be friendly with a certain player on the Winnipeg team, they accuse me of divulging plays."

There was no comment from the Winnipeg club owners or players. The Ottawa players were fined $100 for each of the last two games. The club announcement said the fines were imposed "for failure to exhibit the caliber of football of which the players are capable."

The announcement added "immediate steps are being taken to secure replacements in an endeavor to strengthen the team."

The Big Four club did not identify the players or reveal how many American imports were involved. Ottawa lost both games.

Jones And Andrews In TV Bout Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, seventh ranked middleweight contender, fights Al Andrews tonight for television boxing fans.

Jones, never knocked off his feet in 53 fights, is an 8-5 favorite. The bout will be televised (ABC) from Miami's Dinner Key Auditorium beginning at 9 p.m. (EST).

Jones has been enjoying a good year after losing five in a row last year. He has a victory over Sugar Ray Robinson. Other victims include Chris Christensen, Ernie Durando and George Johnson.

He lost this year to middleweight champion Bobo Olson and Eduardo Lausae. His record includes 36 wins, 14 losses and three draws.

Andrews, unranked, has a record of 40 victories, 14 losses and two draws.

'55 Season Was Not Complete Flop For Pittsburgh Pirates; Hurler Is Earned Run Leader

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—The 1955 baseball season was not a complete bust for the Pittsburgh Pirates after all. They had the National League's earned run leader in Bob Friend, their 24-year-old right-hander.

And that's not all. Friend becomes the first major league pitcher in history (earned runs were first tabulated in 1912) to finish on top in ERA while performing for a last-place club.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that Friend gave up 63 earned runs in 200 innings for an earned run mark of 2.84. He had a 14-9 won-lost record.

Lefty Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox paced the American League with a 1.97 earned run average. He yielded 45 earned tallies in 206 frames while winning 15 games and losing 10.

Had 2 Shutouts
Friend, who produced 2 shutouts and had 9 complete games, is the first Pirate hurler to lead in earned run averages since Cy Blanton topped the National League with 2.59 in 1935.

Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves finished second to Friend in the National. He permitted 72 earned runs in 202 innings for a 3.21 ERA. Buhl won 13 games and dropped 11.

Don Newcombe of the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers was third with 3.23. Warren Spahn, the Braves' veteran southpaw, was fourth with 3.26. He was followed by Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, 3.30; Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants, 3.35; and Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati, 3.47.

Ford Is Runner-up
Whitney Ford of the New York Yankees was runner-up to Pierce in the American. He permitted 74 earned runs in 254 frames for a 2.62 ERA. He had 18 victories against 7 setbacks.

Early Wynn of Cleveland was third with 2.82. Then came Frank Sullivan, Boston Red Sox, 2.91; Herb Score, Cleveland, 2.93; and Billy Hoelt, Detroit, with 2.99.

Pierce, 28, produced 6 shutouts and 16 complete games. His earned run mark is the lowest in the majors since Hal Newhouse of Detroit finished with 1.94 in 1946.

9 Missing Yanks
May Be In Russia
BERLIN (AP)—Reports from returning Soviet prisoners of having seen Americans in a Siberian slave camp raised hope in U. S. Army circles today that nine soldiers missing from the Berlin command also may be repatriated.

German refugees have identified four Americans including a soldier among those still imprisoned in the Soviet Union's Arctic slave labor camp at Vorkuta.

Among the nine carried on Army rolls in Berlin and believed to be in the Soviet Union, if still alive, is Pfc. George Stabley, of Jersey Shore, Pa., who has been carried as absent without leave since May 28, 1951.

GOLA BREAKS HAND
HOULTON, Maine (AP)—Tom Gola, La Salle University's All-America basketball player, suffered a fracture of his right hand in a National Basketball Assn. exhibition contest last night and will be lost to the Philadelphia Warriors for six weeks.

Gola incurred the injury while fighting for the ball with Ed McCauley of the Boston Celtics and was forced to leave the game. The Warriors won 140-139.

Final AAA Big Auto Race Sunday

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — Big car auto racing under sanction of the American Automobile Association will be presented for the last time in history on the Williams Grove Speedway Sunday afternoon, October 16, when Roy Richey stages the annual Ted Horn-Bill Schindler Memorial Trophy Race on the half-mile oval.

The Triple-A has decided to discontinue the sanctioning of auto races after the close of the current season, and this week's event will also be the last AAA sanctioned race to be seen in this section of the country.

Today's Talk
ADJUSTMENTS
To live out a useful and happy life one of the secrets — few ever appreciate — is that of adjustment to situations and circumstances. Those who refuse to do this have none to blame but themselves for their irregular happiness.
In our economical life we have to make these adjustments continually. Why not then in our personal affairs, especially those that affect others? Fundamentally, we are all of us much alike. We differ in ideas, personal likes and dislikes, and adjustments have to be made in order to get on well with associates and even friends.
Then there are those adjustments we have to make because of the loss of near and dear ones. For a time we become confused, we shove our faith aside and fear to trust our own judgment. At such a time prayer is one of the great instruments to ride us back to a normal and happy life. In the loss of a job there are always adjustments to be made — but how many times such a loss is a blessing in disguise!
We never know when misfortune is apt to strike us down for a period. It is well always to be looking ahead and making adjustments from time to time, so that we remain the master of our circumstances. Faith should become a companion of ours throughout life. Keep freshening it!

None of us is as successful and happy as it is possible for us to be. An all too small portion of our time and ability is put to action. If you kept a diary and entered there nothing but what you had actually accomplished for that day, you would soon wake up to the knowledge of how little is really achieved.
We need to keep making adjustments that will enable us to make the most of ourselves and of life. When Liberace was unknown, and playing the piano in night clubs and other places for just a living, he kept thinking of the time when he would play before millions — as he is today. His early adjustments gave him the courage to go on and to reap the harvest of his dreams.

Tomorrow, Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Keep Adventuring!"

SORROWFUL BAD AXE
There's heartache in Bad Axe, of Michigan's thumb.
For years they have known it was certain to come.
There are lumps in the throats of the young and the old.
Verona's gay locker room's silent and sold.
The eyes that once twinkled, with mist now are dimmed.
The barber of Bad Axe at golf has been trimmed.

A slicker from Florida's Miami Beach
Whose golf is the sort good professionals teach.
With the costliest clubs and the sportiest dress.
A shirt just as bright as a sunrise—no less—
And wearing a ten-dollar cap, if you please,
Played the barber of Bad Axe and combed him with ease.

A Florida slicker! A dude, if you choose.
Who's never been noted for giving shampoos.
A stranger who might have just dropped in from Mars
Kept nicking the barber of Bad Axe with pars.
At half-staff the flags of the county were waved.
Once over lightly the barber was shaved.

Public Records Win Custody Of Papers
HARRISBURG — A Senate-passed resolution urged that all records of the upper chamber compiled between 1822 and 1920 be placed in custody of the Division of Public Records in the State Historical and Museum Commission.
Sen. Stephen D. Dineen (D-Conn.) introduced the resolution, which would transfer the records now held in the Senate chamber to the State Historical and Museum Commission.

ATOMIC CHIEF QUERIES DIXON YATES POWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission has conceded publicly for the first time that "there may be a question as to the validity" of the Dixon-Yates contract.
He said in an Oct. 7 letter made public Monday by Sen. Anderson (D-MD) that any cancellation payment to the Dixon-Yates power group is being held up while the question of validity is studied internally.
Both Edgar H. Dixon and Eugene A. Yates, heads of the two major utility companies involved, renewed their contentions that the now-abandoned contract was a valid one.
No Cancellation Fee Due
Anderson, chairman of the Senate-Atomic Energy Committee, said in a statement that AEC now appeared to be moving toward the position he has maintained all along. He has contended it never was a binding obligation on the government, and that no cancellation fee was due Dixon-Yates.
The AEC consistently has maintained heretofore that the contract became legally effective some time last winter.
The contract was negotiated by AEC last year at President Eisenhower's direction. It called for a 107-million-dollar plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA electricity and used elsewhere by AEC.
On July 13 this year the President directed that the contract be terminated and the AEC has been conducting negotiations looking toward a final settlement of the contract since that time. If it is binding, the government is obligated to pay costs incurred by the Dixon-Yates group. There have been estimates these could run to several million dollars.

ATTLEE THINKS DISARMAMENT CHANCES GOOD
By TOM OCHILTREE
MARGATE, England (AP) — Labor party leader Clement Attlee said Tuesday he believes the chances of a disarmament agreement among the world's big powers are better than ever.
The 72-year-old former prime minister told the annual Labor party conference this is because all countries now realize that "a major war leaves no victors."
Attlee, making his first public appearance since a recent illness, accused Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government of dodging the issue in refusing to cut the nation's two year military service term.
Army Reduction
Eden announced last week that Britain would reduce her armed service by 100,000 men in the next three years by a gradual raising of the draft age.
Attlee renewed his party's demand for an outright ban on the H-bomb and for big power talks on general disarmament.
The conference then adopted formal resolutions calling for an unspecified reduction in Britain's military service period and for speedy U.N. action to secure an arms reduction and the banning of atomic and hydrogen bombs.
Bevan Proposal Rejected
Left wing resolutions put forward by supporters of Aneurin Bevan calling for Britain to stop making H-bombs even if other countries do not were rejected after deputy party leader Herbert Morrison declared the Labor party could not follow any tactics which would weaken this nation's ties with the United States.
The moderate wing of the party had scored a triumph earlier when Hugh Gaitskill resoundingly defeated Bevan for the post of treasurer of the party.
The vote was 5,475,000 for Gaitskill, 40, former chancellor of the exchequer, to 1,225,000 for the fiery Welsh orator.

Legion Expands Plans For Gettysburg Event
HARRISBURG (AP) — The state American Legion will hold its annual midyear conference next Jan. 21-22 in Altoona or Bedford instead of Harrisburg.
State Commander John F. Stav, Philadelphia, and Monday the meeting time and place were changed because of expanded plans for an American Legion memorial service November 11 at Gettysburg National Cemetery. The mid-year meeting was to have been held in conjunction with the Gettysburg service.
The Gettysburg service will substitute for ceremonies formerly held by the Legion at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Drag Susquehanna To Find 2 Bodies
HARRISBURG (AP) — Dragging operations in the Susquehanna River were renewed Tuesday in search of the bodies of two fishermen presumed drowned when their boat overturned near here Sunday.
The two victims were Thomas J. Hoffman, 45, and Oscar C. Bossner, 59, both veteran employees of the Reading Railroad's nearby Rutherford yards.
The two set out for a day of fishing in the river Sunday. Their overturned boat was found later in the day near the Dock Street dam.

IRAN TO JOIN WEST AGAINST SOVIET UNION
TEHRAN (AP) — Iran lined up officially today with the Western-backed Middle East defense alliance, closing a major gap in the anti-Communist world's defense chain south of the Soviet Union.
The Iranian government announced its adherence to the Baghdad Pact, which already unites Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan and Britain in a mutual defense agreement.
With Iran, the Middle Eastern group forms a solid land belt from the Mediterranean to the Himalayas. The North Atlantic Alliance extends the chain on across southern and western Europe, the Atlantic and North America.
Premier Hussein Ala announced he had sent a Foreign Ministry official to the Baghdad headquarters of the Middle East pact with a note advising that the Iranian government would submit its adherence to the treaty to Parliament for ratification.
Need Approval
Approval of both houses of Parliament is necessary, but the Shah's strong support of the treaty was believed to assure its ratification.
Opening the Senate Oct. 8, the ruler said: "It is fitting that my government take the necessary steps and precautions for the defense of our frontiers as well as for safeguarding the rights of our country."
One informed source said Iran would formally announce its joining the alliance "before the Geneva conference" of the Big Four foreign ministers, scheduled to open Oct. 27. The timing, said the source, stemmed from an "obvious" reason—presumably a desire to strengthen the hands of the Western Big Three at the parley.
Iranian adherence to the pact is certain to arouse the ire of her Soviet neighbors on the north.

Dandelions are found most abundantly on the warmest areas of the ground and buried heating pipelines often can be traced by their concentration.

Leader Names New Laurenton Trustees
HARRISBURG (AP) — Five appointees of Gov. Leader, named to replace members of the board of trustees at Laurenton State Village who resigned, had Senate confirmation Tuesday.
Confirmed Monday night were Park L. Hoffman, West Milton; Mrs. Marie S. Prunell, Millinburg; R. Spangler, Marten, Beaverstown; Dr. Robert C. Parrell, Springfield, Delaware County and Dr. Duane Ramsey, University Park.
The Senate also confirmed three appointees to the advisory hospital council.
Dr. Berwyn F. Matteson, state health secretary; George E. Hamilton, Meadville; Mark M. Walter, Wayne; J. Frank McKenna Jr., Pottsville; C. Jared Ingersoll, Philadelphia; and Dr. Donald G. Smecher, Lancaster.

419 DISTRICTS AWAIT OUTCOME OF WAGE TAX
HARRISBURG (AP) — The future financial structure of 419 municipalities in Pennsylvania depending on a wage tax on non-residents to keep their budget balanced hinged today on the outcome of a Senate measure to remove non-residents from being subjected to such levies.
In a position for a final Senate vote, the Republican-sponsored legislation would end local wage taxes on non-residents such as those in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh at the end of 1955.
School districts would not be affected by the measure.
Sen. Barry (D-Allegheny) described as "moonlight madness" a disorderly Senate session which bordered on chaos Monday night.
A rash of amendments, coupled with angry debate and sarcastic interruptions, brought about repeated blows of the gavel by the presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Furman Demand Adherence To Issue.
The parliamentary confusion was further compounded by demands for points of order from both sides of the aisle that the speakers stop straying away from wage taxes to talk about everything from how a florist goes about buying flowers in Pittsburgh to the results of the 1947 election campaign.
The action on the wage tax bill started mildly enough. Sen. Kopriver (D-Allegheny) took to the floor to support his original measure to bar Pittsburgh from imposing its wage levy on non-residents.
Barr, a Pittsburgher who is closely associated with Mayor David L. Lawrence, then offered amendments taking away from all other cities, boroughs and townships, except Philadelphia, wage tax privileges on non-residents.
Then Sen. Watkins (R-Delaware), inserted an amendment to repeal the Quaker City's impost on non-residents.
Termed Fiasco
By that time, Sen. Dent, Democratic floor leader, termed the snowballing confusion an "unintelligible fiasco" and lost a fight to require the state to make up to municipalities any revenue lost from such a move.
His last-ditch attempt to recommit the measure fell by a straight party vote—Democrats for and Republicans against.
Dent hinted however that the bill, if passed by the Senate, would likely be pigeonholed by the Democratic-controlled House—but not before he attacked former

TRUSTEE NAMES SENT TO SENATE BY GOV. LEADER
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Leader Tuesday appointed trustees for Locust Mountain, Shamokin, Coal Dale and Dixmont state hospitals and asked the Senate for confirmation.
The appointments followed a policy of Gov. Leader and Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro in reorganizing boards of trustees of state hospitals.
Replacements were nominated for eight trustees of Locust Mountain State Hospital who were removed from office.
Changes Made
The nominations:
Locust Mountain State Hospital: Israel Gray, Frackville, replacing Ben Swirsky, Frackville, removed from office; James Scott, Pottsville, vice John Ritz, Pottsville; Tom Gintley, Gardenville, vice William R. Miller, Mahanoy City; Victor John B. Bude, Shenandoah, vice Richard A. Lewis, Shenandoah; Raymond Troy, Gordon, vice Robert David-on, Brockton; Joseph Navitsky, Shenandoah Heights, Shenandoah, vice Edward Strolls, Shenandoah; Peter Chaplinsky, Shenandoah, vice Joseph Nevedomsky, Mahanoy City, vice Mrs. Hawthorne L. Ball, Mahanoy City.
Shamokin State Hospital: Carl-son M. Strouss, Mount Carmel, vice Frank A. Miller, Mount Carmel, resigned; William Ruffing, Mount Carmel, vice Edmund Glo-wacki, Mount Carmel, resigned; Michael Stewart, Kulpmont, vice George Shocora, Kulpmont, resigned; Thomas J. Carr, Shamokin, vice W. Irvin Wiest, Shamokin, resigned; Michael J. Wunz, Kulpmont, vice Fred D. Kessler, Northumberland, resigned; Ralph Feudale, Shamokin, vice Frank J. Miller, Paxinos, resigned; Stanley J. Kosloski, Shamokin, vice Elmer Faust, Shamokin, deceased; Thomas F. Landy, Shamokin, vice Carl Rice, Sunbury, resigned; Archer Croil, Shamokin, vice Mrs. S. Elizabeth Barr, Shamokin, removed from office.
Coal Dale Hospital
Coal Dale State Hospital: John Eagan, Palo Alto, Pottsville, vice John West, Tamaqua, term expired; James Berrang, New Philadelphia, vice William Clements, Coal Dale, term expired; Joseph Holden, St. Clair, vice Arthur Snyder, Tamaqua, term expired; James Donahue, Mahanoy City, vice Harry Kleckner, Tamaqua, removed from office; Frank Evans, Nesquehoning, vice Dr. Joseph J. Humphries, Lehighton, removed from office; Miss Margaret Mary McCall, Lansford, vice Mrs. Martha Edwards, Lansford, term expired; Joseph A. Hughes, Pottsville, vice Richard H. Evans, Coal Dale, term expired; Charles McFadden, Summit Hill, vice Thomas J. Whildein, Lansford, removed from office; James Dougherty, Jim Thorpe, vice Robert Gormley, Jim Thorpe, removed from office.

Gov. Duff, now a U.S. senator, for conceiving the 1947 local tax enabling law. The law led to the flood of local wage taxes.
Kopriver defended his measure as "fair and necessary" to protect non-residents of Pittsburgh who have to pay the wage tax.

Fairview Patient Knives Supervisor
SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — An inmate at Fairview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane attacked a 79-year-old assistant superintendent with a sharpened nail Monday but guards subdued the man before any injury was inflicted.
Dr. Asa L. Hickok was attacked as he made his daily inspection tour of Ward W. The patient said he wanted to be conducted to the front gate of the institution.
It marked the third incident at the hospital in a week. Pennsylvania state police still are seeking two of six inmates who fled the hospital last Tuesday.

Sun Oil Co. Opens Anti-Trust Fight
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Sun Oil Co. Monday opened its defense against an anti-trust suit by maintaining that its business practices are not restrictive, as maintained by government attorneys.
Joseph W. Henderson, counsel for Sun Oil, told federal court Judge J. Cullen Gable Sun will show it can completely disprove the government charges that allege that the company maintains exclusive contracts with 10,000 gas station operators.
The government completed its case in May after calling 114 witnesses. The trial has been in recess since then.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Argument over how much meat was in a 35-cent stew resulted in the fatal stabbing yesterday of a lunchroom counterman, police said. They were seeking a man known only as "Sam" for the slaying. Police said he stabbed Ira S. York of Eagleville, Montgomery county, after York ejected him from the lunchroom when he complained there was no meat in the stew.

Summit Hill, removed from office.
Dixmont State Hospital: Dr. Joseph P. Novak, Pittsburgh, from Nov. 18, 1953; Victor L. Alski, Pittsburgh, from Nov. 18, 1953; Dr. Charles L. Hamilton Jr., Pittsburgh, vice Robert G. Harris, Emsworth, removed from office; Miss Elinor A. Sigel, Pittsburgh, vice Mrs. Mary D. Phillips, Pittsburgh, removed from office; Mrs. Margaret B. McBride, Pittsburgh, vice Frank W. Ittel, Pittsburgh, resigned.
The new trustees were nominated for terms of four years.

CAB PROPOSES AIRLINE STOPS FOR 28 CITIES
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed that 28 cities on the routes of Allegheny Airlines be made permanent stops and six others should receive seasonal certificates.
The board's action Monday completed initial steps for arranging permanent certification of 13 of the 14 local service airlines, as provided in legislation adopted recently by Congress.
Proposed for permanent certificates were these Pennsylvania cities: Altoona, Johnstown, Pottsville, Harrisburg, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Lancaster, Oil City, Franklin, Bradford, Clearfield-DuBois-Philipsburg, Bellefonte - State College, Williamsport and Erie.
Seasonal certificates proposed included those for Philadelphia-Camden, N.J., and temporary two year certificates were proposed for Cumberland and Easton-Cambridge Md., and Lock Haven, Pa.
Other permanent certificates proposed included those for Hagerstown and Salisbury, Md., and Wheeling, Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va.

Seasonal Certificates
Meanwhile, President Leslie O. Barnes of Allegheny testified Monday at a CAB hearing that extension of the carrier's system from Erie, Pa., to Detroit would benefit eight industrial centers in Pennsylvania.
He listed them as Erie, Bradford, Williamsport, Franklin-Oil City, Scranton-Wilkes-Barre, DuBois, Clearfield-Philipsburg, State College-Bellefonte, Harrisburg-York, and Lancaster.
Barnes testimony was given at the opening of hearing on proposals by Allegheny and three other carriers to provide the Erie-Detroit service. The others are Mohawk Airlines, Lake Central Airlines and North Central Airlines.
Mohawk proposes to provide the new service by extending one of its routes from Bradford, Pa., through Erie to Detroit and from Buffalo, N. Y., to Erie.
Lake Central has applied for authority to operate from Youngstown, Ohio, through Erie to Buffalo and from Erie to Detroit. North Central seeks extension from Detroit through Erie to Buffalo.

Entire Nation Observes Fire Prevention Week; Stop Costly Blazes

Fire Chief McSherry And Two Assistants Issue Appeal To All Parents To Guard Against Fires

"We are sure most of you folks will agree with us that it's not very smart to leave your car parked on the street with the doors unlocked and the keys in the ignition. You're just inviting someone to steal it when you do that. Yet, it's a matter of record that the majority of people who've had their cars stolen were guilty of this carelessness," said Donald McSherry, chief, and Donald Staub and Francis L. Linn, assistant chiefs of the Gettysburg Fire Department, today, in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

"Now what's a stolen car got to do with Fire Prevention Week? Just this:

Die Because Of Neglect
"More precious than the most expensive automobile, the lives of children are being 'stolen' — and snuffed out by fire because of parents who neglect to take the simplest precautions to safeguard their youngsters — while they're not around to watch over them.

"We are talking about the woman in Tacoma, Washington, who earlier this year went off to a movie and left her six young children in the care of a mentally defective 15-year-old boy. She came home to find that fire had wiped her family.

"And we have in mind, too, that couple in Georgia who thought they didn't need a baby sitter because the party they were going to was just next door. When the father returned home for a pack of cigarettes late in the evening, he opened the front door to be met by a raging inferno inside the house.

Five youngsters perished in that fire — they never had a chance. "We can tell you about mothers in Oakland, California, and in Gloucester, Massachusetts, who left their children for a short visit to nearby cafes. Of course it was too late and firemen were sick when they finally found the babies and other youngsters hopelessly and helplessly trapped behind locked doors.

300 Children Perish
"How selfish and unthinking can people get? It was shocking to me — and it should be to you, too — to learn that in the past year over 300 youngsters, home alone with no one to help them escape, were killed by fire. That figure comes from the National Fire Protection Association and on top of that, they say that this total is growing larger year by year.

"There's no point in giving you more examples of the mess that other people make of taking care of their children. The main thing we want to get across now is that there is no conceivable excuse for giving fire such an open-handed invitation to harm your children. "To do so is not only cruel, it's pitiful and stupid . . . because it's actually simpler to guarantee a child's safekeeping in your absence than it is to keep your car from being stolen.

Don't Leave Children Alone
"Mother and dad, don't — for heaven's sake and your children's sake — don't ever leave them home alone even for a few minutes! This is especially important when your children are very young. Could you ever forgive yourself if you returned home to find flames blocking your way from getting to the baby and toddlers who can't possibly help themselves?

"It happens over and over again. Believe us, it tears a fireman's heart to hear those fatal words, 'But I just left the house for a few minutes . . .'

"When you must leave the children in someone else's care, do you make sure that the person is completely capable and old enough to realize what a tremendous responsibility you're transferring — oftentimes in return for just a few cents an hour?

Take Precautions First
"By capable, we mean physically able and smart enough to rush the youngsters out of the house at the first whiff of smoke or gas. And with sense enough, too, to keep them from going back into the house before any attempt is made to call the fire department from the nearest fire alarm box or neighbor's house.

"Make certain that your baby sitters are familiar with every room and every possible exit from your house. Always put in writing how you can be reached and add the phone numbers of a doctor and the fire and police departments. And remember to point out the location of the nearest fire alarm box.

"A special word to baby sitters — never leave the house for an instant while you're on the job. And falling asleep would be just as dangerous, so keep wide awake. Make it easier on yourself by planning at the start of the job just what you'd do in any possible emergency, particularly fire.

Be Ready To Act
"Be ready to act fast if you even suspect a fire or think you smell smoke or gas. Think first at all times of the children, so don't waste precious minutes hunting for the fire or telephoning the parents or fire department. Throw a blanket around each child and get them all out of the house and keep them out. Then's the time to start thinking about calling for help.

"Whatever you are — parent or baby sitter — you've undoubtedly realized at this point we've done nothing more than spell out ordinary common sense. And that's all

Firemen Find Few Funny Fires

The demon Fire knows no laws, and he has a diabolical sense of humor besides. Here are some examples of fiery whimsy that happened during the past year:

Dennis Lowe, of Nottingham, England, was traveling on a bus when he saw a smartly dressed woman in flames in a store entrance. He quickly jumped off to rescue her, only to discover he was about to save a tailor's dummy.

For 12 years a seminary, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., kept its own fire engine in a barn, waiting for a possible fire. One night last winter the barn burned, and the fire engine inside was destroyed.

In Bridgeport, Conn., firemen doused a blaze at a fire hydrant. They found that fumes from an underground gas line had seeped up about the hydrant base and ignited.

When their water supplies gave out in Comstock, Minn., firemen finally stopped a grocery store fire from spreading to an adjacent tavern by breaking beer bottles and dashing the contents on the saloon wall.

Probably the most expensive pizza pie in history belongs to Mrs. John A. Jacifco, Elizabeth, N. J. Baked along with it were $500 in cash, four $25 savings bonds, and a bank book — all hidden in a strong box in, naturally, the pizza oven.

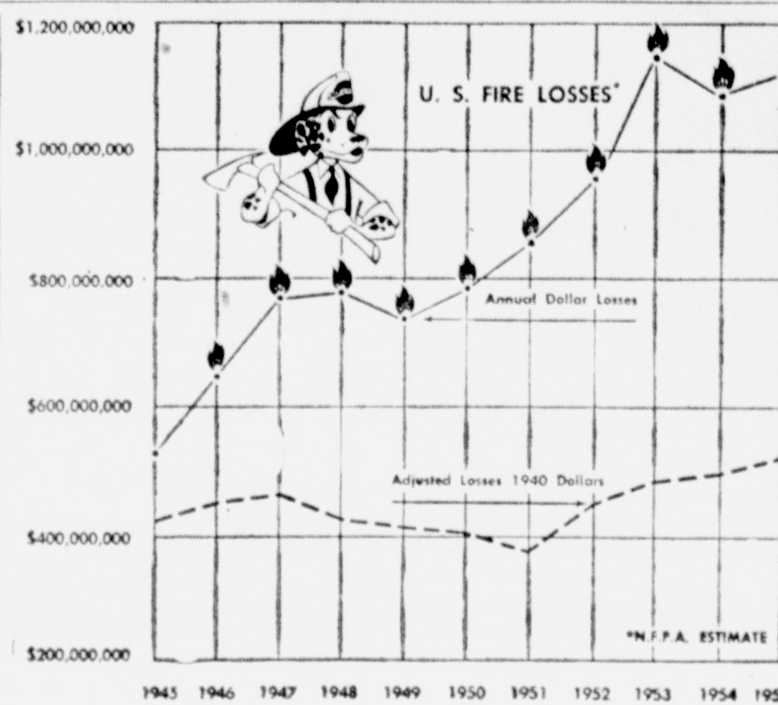

A fire wrecked the Philadelphia Fire Marshal's office last summer. His office in fire headquarters was ruined by an explosion of highly flammable paper and fire crackers that had been seized for safekeeping.

Acquit Cook On Wood Alcohol Death Count

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarter Sessions Court Judge Theodore L. Reimel acquitted William F. Cook, 25, Monday of a charge of manslaughter in the wood alcohol deaths of his mother, stepfather and three friends.

The only witness at the 20-minute trial, detective William Hill, told the court that Cook and three companions allegedly stole two jugs of alcohol from a tank truck. He said they took the alcohol to the home of Cook's stepfather, Thomas Farrell, 46, and mother, Catherine, 53.

It takes in small quantities to keep fire from stealing your youngsters. "Please, please . . . give our children a break!"

Don't Risk A Private Fire, Call Fire Department Early

Ask any fireman and he'll tell you that fires, like icebergs, often are largely concealed.

Because a bad fire can and too frequently does build up hidden and undetected in walk spaces, attics and under piles of rubbish, the smartest thing to do the minute anyone smells smoke or even suspects a fire is to call the fire department at once.

And calling the fire department just for an investigation is nothing to be ashamed of. Firemen without exception appreciate such alert action and you certainly will appreciate it, too, if they actually do find a fire.

Another word of caution about little fires that could be bigger than they seem: never over-estimate your own fire fighting ability — before attempting to fight even the smallest fire, first call the fire department.

When it actually comes to calling the fire department, most people for some strange reason would rather leave this simple, logical job to someone else. It's a fact that a number of buildings, according to National Fire Protection Association records, have burned to the ground while crowds stood around wondering why the fire department didn't show up.

No Alarm Sounded
Everybody assumed that someone else had turned in the alarm — and no one had.

Minutes count in any fire — so make sure an alarm is turned in by calling the fire department you self. And don't wait until an actual emergency forces you to learn how to do it quickly and correctly. Right now, learn the location of the nearest fire alarm box and check whether you know how to operate it properly.

Remember, too, to stay near the box after pulling the alarm so you can direct firemen right to the fire.

When telephoning, be certain that you know how to reach your home town fire department — this is especially important when several departments share the same exchange.

Reporting a fire by phone, remember to give: the street and number; the name of the city or town; what's burning; and your own name and phone number.

FARM BLAZES ARE GETTING MORE COSTLY

Each year farm fires exact a greater toll of life and property, says the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15. Fire losses on the farm in 1954 jumped 13 per cent over the 1953 figure for a total of $157,000,000, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The majority of last year's farm fires should not have happened, and for farmers who would keep their farms free of fire, the NFPA has this advice:

1 — Break the habit of smoking in bed and in danger areas such as barns, sheds, and storerooms. Smoldering cigarettes and burning matches carelessly thrown aside are to blame for a heavy proportion of U. S. farm fires.

2 — Keep furnaces, stoves, space heaters, brooders and other heating equipment clean and in good repair. Dirty or faulty heating equipment is another major source of farm fires. Have qualified repairmen service heating equipment at least once a year.

Keep Distant Storage
3 — Store gasoline, kerosene, and other flammable liquids at least 40 feet from buildings. Underground storage is safest. Tight metal containers are the next best choice. When drawing off small amounts, use only safety cans made for the purpose.

4 — Use fire-resistant building materials, particularly asphalt shingles or other fire-retardant roofing. Most city dwellers are required by building codes to use fire-retardant roofing, but it's up to the farmer to take this precautionary step on his own, the NFPA points out.

5 — Clean up trash, oily rags, accumulated magazines and papers, and dead vegetation in yards and fields, particularly along fence lines. "Don't give a fire a place to start," is the Fire Prevention Week slogan.

FELLOW OFFICERS—FRIENDS
BOSTON (AP) — Nine men showed up at the home of Patrolman Vincent Kennedy yesterday and began painting his house. Mrs. Kennedy, whose husband is in a hospital with paralytic type polio, expressed surprise. The men explained. Eight of them were fellow officers. They said the house needed painting and they wanted to do it before Kennedy was released from hospital next week.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Dick Gassenheimer was in charge of the "lost children" department at the South Alabama Fair. When she was ready to leave the fair for home last night, after a weary day, she had to help find one more missing child—her 7-year-old son Paul.

"Sparky" The Fire Dog Gives Tips To Children

Sparky, the famous fire dog, has a special message for one purpose in life — to help people save themselves from harm or loss by fire. And of all people, he's most interested in teaching children how to keep from being hurt by fire.

Thousands of youngsters are already learning about fire safety at first hand through membership in Sparky's Fire Department. But this is Fire Prevention Week and what to do to save yourself? If Sparky has a special message for children everywhere — something that mom and dad will be interested in, too.

"It's very dangerous for anybody to play with matches. Please promise your mother and dad never to play with matches unless they say you can.

"If your house caught fire while you were asleep, would you know what to do to save yourself? If

HOW NOT TO HAVE A FIRE

Winter is the danger season for home fires and calls for extra fire safety precautions, warns the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15. More home fires occur during the winter months, when stoves and furnaces are in use, than at any other time of year.

Many winter fires can be traced to defective or improperly operated oil space heaters, the NFPA says. The association urges home owners to thoroughly check all heating equipment at the beginning of the heating season. And all heating equipment should be serviced by a qualified repairman.

Clean Chimneys

Chimneys and flues should be cleaned, with all chimney cracks and flues repaired and loose mortar replaced. Soot caked in chimneys is a frequent cause of chimney fires and homeowners without fire-retardant roofs should be particularly wary of this hazard, cautions the NFPA.

you don't know, please ask your mom and dad right away to tell you what you should do.

"When a fire starts someplace, it's very important that firemen know about it immediately so they can put it out before someone gets hurt. So if you should ever see a fire starting in a building or in a field or anyplace, please run as fast as you can to the nearest grown-up and tell him about the fire so he can pull the fire alarm box or telephone the fire department.

"And finally," says Sparky, "please don't ever play near any kind of fire. Be very careful, too, around the stove and furnace in the house because they get very, very hot — and everybody knows how much it hurts to even just touch something hot."

Sparky's Fire Department is a special children's fire safety project sponsored nationally by the non-profit, voluntary membership National Fire Protection Association. Children can join through their local fire departments in many places, or by sending 25 cents to Sparky's Fire Department, Boston 1, Mass., and they will receive a Sparky Inspector's badge, membership card, and Inspector's Manual.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars in property are lost each year through fires; and

WHEREAS, as a result of these destructive fires, immeasurable losses are caused in employment, production, and other economic activities; and

WHEREAS fire prevention programs have proved effective in communities throughout the Nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning October 9, 1955, as Fire Prevention Week.

I call upon the citizens of all communities in the land to organize effective programs for reducing the needless waste caused by preventable fires, and I urge state and local governments, the American National Red Cross, the National Fire Waste Council, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and business, labor, and farm organizations, as well as schools, civic groups, and public information agencies, actively to observe Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government to assist in this national effort to reduce the loss of life and property resulting from fires.

more serious winter hazards. Clean-up of attics, cellars, and storerooms is another important preparation for winter fire safety. Keep boxes and cartons a safe distance from furnaces and heating pipes. And provide for good ventilation within storage areas to prevent spontaneous combustion.

It's wise, too, to replace all worn or loose electrical wiring. Extension cords and multiple sockets deserve special attention, the NFPA points out, because they often develop short circuits through rough usage. And home owners should take great care not to overload circuits or use fuses of higher amperage than the wiring can carry.

Fishermen Lost On Delaware Trip

MILFORD, Pa. (AP) — Police of Pennsylvania and New Jersey say they have not found any trace of two men missing since Saturday morning when they began a fishing trip on the Delaware River. The two, Alex Alexa, 55, and Michael Suchorsky, 49, both of Elizabeth, N.J., were believed fishing from an eight-foot dinghy in water described as running high.

CHIEF WARNS PARENTS OF FIRE HAZARDS

Do you ever leave your youngsters home alone? Don't especially if your children are very young, warns Fire Chief Donald McSherry.

Children at home attended would be completely helpless in case of fire or any other emergency. Yet the National Fire Protection Association tells us that more and more youngsters each year are being trapped and killed by fire because one was on hand to lead them to safety.

The NFPA, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15, in cooperation with the International Association of Fire Chiefs, has this special warning for all parents:

Never leave your children unattended. And be absolutely certain that your baby sitter is trained and capable of protecting your children in the face of emergency.

Be Fire-Conscious

It's very important, the warning continues, that the sitter be thoroughly fire-conscious; that she never sleeps while on the job; that she knows the location of front and back exits, stairs and porches, and the most direct route from children's rooms to the outside.

Make sure the sitter knows the location of the nearest fire alarm box. Show her where the phone is and make it easy for her by prominently posting the telephone numbers of the fire and police departments and doctor on or near the phone.

The baby sitter should know that at the first whiff of smoke or gas, she should immediately gather up the youngsters and get them out of the house. And tell her not to waste time dressing the children — wrap them in a blanket and get them out at once!

Once the children are safely away from the house, the sitter should then call the fire department, by pulling a fire alarm box or by phone from a neighboring house.

LEADER ALERTS STATE AGAINST FIRE MISHAPS

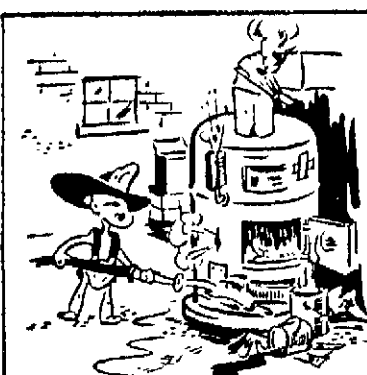

Governor George M. Leader dedicated the week of October 9 to 15 for the observance of National Fire Prevention Week in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In his statement, the Pennsylvania Chief Executive said:

"Fire counts among man's great assets and among man's great foes. Annually, the United States suffers tremendous losses of thousands of human lives and the waste of hundreds of millions of dollars in property and personal possessions snuffed out by holocausts often caused by human carelessness and accident.

"More than once in the history of Pennsylvania, fire's destructive forces have deprived our communities of establishments that are the means of our citizens' employment and a source of the Commonwealth's productivity. All of us know how hapless are the victims of this destructive form of devastation and how incomes and hopes are swallowed up in the flames of havocs that have laid low neighborhoods and communities as well as homes and factories.

"Every Pennsylvanian within him-

Flammable Clothing Is A Fire Hazard For Children

Children's clothing, too often highly flammable, is a serious fire hazard, says the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15. Hospital records show that children in the 3-6 age group are the most frequent victims of clothing fires.

The NFPA adds that completely fireproof clothing is impractical, but children can and should be protected by removing common home fire hazards and by being made fire-safety conscious.

Any open fire should be screened so children cannot fall into it and so that sparks cannot fly out and set fire to clothing. When burning trash or brush, the NFPA warns, parents should keep children indoors or a good safe distance away. And in the home, oil stoves and heaters should be located where children cannot trip over them, nor should children be allowed to operate furnaces, heaters, or stoves.

Parents are urged to begin training their children at an early age not to play with matches, not to reach for pots and pans on the stove, and not to play with the controls of heating appliances.

And it's particularly important that all children learn the right thing to do if ever their clothing does catch fire: Don't panic and run, for this only fans the flames and makes things worse. Instead, they should immediately smother

A Little Care And Caution Will Prevent Many Unnecessary Fires

"Sparky" The Fire Dog Gives Tips To Children

Sparky, the famous fire dog, has one purpose in life — to help people save themselves from harm or loss by fire. And of all people, he's most interested in teaching children how to keep from being hurt by fire.

Thousands of youngsters are already learning about fire safety at first hand through membership in Sparky's Fire Department. But what is Fire Prevention Week and what to do to save yourself? If Sparky has a special message for children everywhere — something that mom and dad will be interested in, too.

"It's very dangerous for anybody to play with matches. Please promise your mother and dad never to play with matches unless they say you can.

"If your house caught fire while you were asleep, would you know what to do to save yourself? If

HOW NOT TO HAVE A FIRE

Winter is the danger season for home fires and calls for extra fire safety precautions, warns the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15. More home fires occur during the winter months, when stoves and furnaces are in use, than at any other time of year.

Many winter fires can be traced to defective or improperly operated oil space heaters, the NFPA says. The association urges home owners to thoroughly check all heating equipment at the beginning of the heating season. And all heating equipment should be serviced by a qualified repairman.

Clean Chimneys

Chimneys and flues should be cleaned, with all chimney cracks and flues repaired and loose mortar replaced. Soot caked in chimneys is a frequent cause of chimney fires and homeowners without fire-retardant roofs should be particularly wary of this hazard, cautions the NFPA.

you don't know, please ask your mom and dad right away to tell you what you should do.

"When a fire starts somewhere, it's very important that firemen know about it immediately so they can put it out before someone gets hurt. So if you should ever see a fire starting in a building or in a field or anywhere, please run as fast as you can to the nearest grown-up and tell him about the fire so he can pull the fire alarm box or telephone the fire department."

"And finally," says Sparky, "please don't ever play near any kind of fire. Be very careful, too, around the stove and furnace in the house because they get very, very hot — and everybody knows how much it hurts to even just touch something hot."

Sparky's Fire Department is a special children's fire safety project sponsored nationally by the non-profit, voluntary membership National Fire Protection Association. Children can join through their local fire departments in many places, or by sending 25 cents to Sparky's Fire Department, Boston 1, Mass., and they will receive a Sparky Inspector's badge, membership card, and Inspector's Manual.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars in property are lost each year through fires; and

WHEREAS, as a result of these destructive fires, immeasurable losses are caused in employment, production, and other economic activities; and

WHEREAS fire prevention programs have proved effective in communities throughout the Nation;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning October 9, 1955, as Fire Prevention Week. I call upon the citizens of all communities in the land to organize effective programs for reducing the needless waste caused by preventable fires, and I urge state and local governments, the American National Red Cross, the National Fire Waste Council, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and business, labor, and farm organizations, as well as schools, civic groups, and public information agencies, actively to observe Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government to assist in this national effort to reduce the loss of life and property resulting from fires.

more serious winter hazards. Clean-up of attics, cellars, and store-rooms is another important preparation for winter fire safety. Keep boxes and cartons a safe distance from furnaces and heating pipes. And provide for good ventilation within storage areas to prevent spontaneous combustion.

It's wise, too, to replace all worn or loose electrical wiring. Extension cords and multiple sockets deserve special attention, the NFPA points out, because they often develop short circuits through rough usage. And home owners should take great care not to overload circuits or use fuses of higher amperage than the wiring can carry.

Entire Nation Observes Fire Prevention Week; Stop Costly Blazes

Fire Chief McSherry And Two Assistants Issue Appeal To All Parents To Guard Against Fires

"We are sure most of you folks will agree with us that it's not very smart to leave your car parked on the street with the doors unlocked and the keys in the ignition. You're just inviting someone to steal it when you do that. Yet, it's a matter of record that the majority of people who've had their cars stolen were guilty of this carelessness," said Donald McSherry, chief, and Donald Staub and Francis I. Linn, assistant chiefs of the Gettysburg Fire Department, today, in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

"Now what's a stolen car got to do with Fire Prevention Week? Just this:

Die Because Of Neglect

"More precious than the most expensive automobile, the lives of children are being 'stolen' — and snuffed out by fire because of parents who neglect to take the simplest precautions to safeguard their youngsters while they're not around to watch over them.

"We are talking about the woman in Tacoma, Washington, who earlier this year went off to a movie and left her six young children in the care of a mentally defective 15-year-old boy. She came home to find that fire had wiped her family.

"And we have in mind, too, that couple in Georgia who thought they didn't need a baby sitter because the party they were going to was just next door. When the father returned home for a pack of cigarettes late in the evening, he opened the front door to be met by a raging inferno inside the house.

Five youngsters perished in that fire — they never had a chance.

"We can tell you about mothers in Oakland, California, and in Gloucester, Massachusetts, who left their children for a short visit to nearby cafes. Of course it was too late and firemen were sick when they finally found the babies and other youngsters hopelessly and helplessly trapped behind locked doors.

300 Children Perish

"How selfish and unthinking can people get? It was shocking to me — and it should be to you, too — to learn that in the past year over 300 youngsters, home alone with no one to help them escape, were killed by fire. That figure comes from the National Fire Protection Association and on top of that, they say that this total is growing larger year by year.

"There's no point in giving you more examples of the mess that other people make of taking care of their children. The main thing we want to get across now is that there is no conceivable excuse for giving fire such an open-handed invitation to harm your children.

"To do so is not only cruel, it's pitiful and stupid . . . because it's actually simpler to guarantee a child's safekeeping in your absence than it is to keep your car from being stolen.

Don't Leave Children Alone

"Mother and dad, don't — for heaven's sake and your children's sake — don't ever leave them home alone even for a few minutes! This is especially important when your children are very young. Could

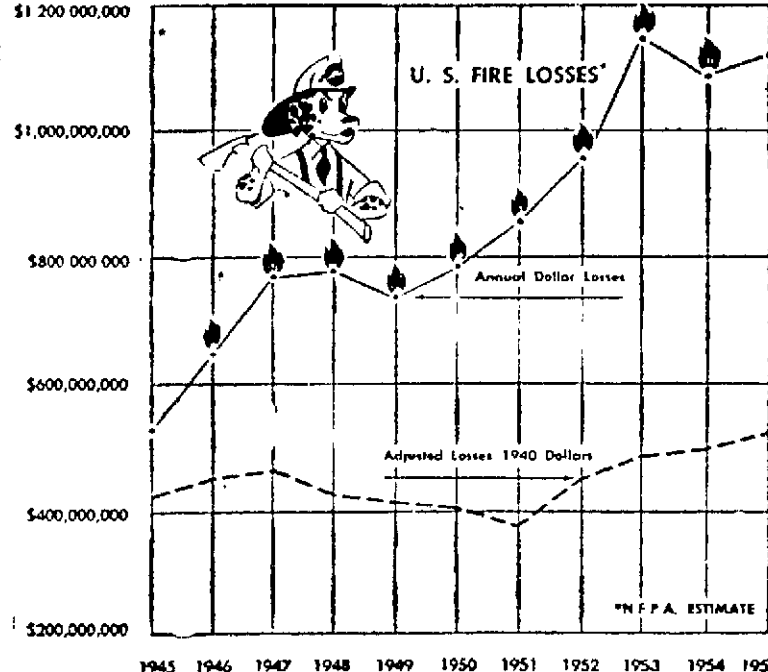

Firemen Find Few Funny Fires

The demon fire knows no laws, and he has a diabolical sense of humor besides. Here are some examples of fiery whimsy that happened during the past year.

Dennis Lowe, of Nottingham, England, was traveling on a bus when he saw a smartly dressed woman in flames in a store entrance. He quickly jumped off to rescue her, only to discover he was about to save a tailor's dummy.

For 12 years a seminary, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., kept its own fire engine in a barn, waiting for a possible fire. One night last winter the barn burned, and the fire engine inside was destroyed.

Don't Risk A Private Fire, Call Fire Department Early

Ask any fireman and he'll tell you that fires, like icebergs, often are largely concealed.

Because a bad fire can and too frequently does build up hidden and undetected in walk spaces, attics and under piles of rubbish, the smartest thing to do the minute anyone smells smoke or even suspects a fire is to call the fire department at once.

And calling the fire department just for an investigation is nothing to be ashamed of. Firemen without exception appreciate such alert action and you certainly will appreciate it, too, if they actually do find a fire.

Another word of caution about little fires that could be bigger than they seem: never over-estimate your own fire fighting ability — before attempting to fight even the smallest fire, first call the fire department.

When it actually comes to calling the fire department, most people for some strange reason would rather leave this simple, logical job to someone else. It's a fact that a number of buildings, according to National Fire Protection Association records, have burned to the ground while crowds stood around wondering why the fire department didn't show up.

No Alarm Sounded

Everybody assumed that someone else had turned in the alarm — and no one had.

Minutes count in any fire — so make sure an alarm is turned in by calling the fire department yourself. And don't wait until an actual emergency forces you to learn how to do it quickly and correctly. Right now, learn the location of the nearest fire alarm box and check whether you know how to operate it properly.

Remember, too, to stay near the box after pulling the alarm so you can direct firemen right to the fire.

NEED THIS HAPPEN ? ? ?

Fire prevention is everybody's business. Be sure you do your part. Be careful; remove fire hazards. Be sure, too, that your home is fully protected. See us for complete insurance.

TRUMAN SHIFTS AFFECTION FOR 1956 NOMINEE

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—A big question in politics today is: Whom—if anybody—does former President Harry S. Truman favor for the Democratic presidential nomination next year?

First he said it was Adlai Stevenson, the man who carried the Democratic banner unsuccessfully against GOP candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952. Now he says he is neutral. It isn't quite clear whether he has backed away from active support of Stevenson, although that would seem to follow.

In any event, Truman's activities in the past few days have centered attention on Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as a possible avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination. And it isn't likely an old campaigner like Truman spoke out without knowing his words would have some such effect.

Support Is Valuable
Few politicians would deny that Truman's support in a convention would have great value. He remains a voice within the Democratic party who can speak and command attention because he is an ex-president of the United States and a political strategist of no small ability.

For months past, Truman has said with unmistakable clarity that he was for Adlai Stevenson. He didn't mention neutrality in those statements.

On Aug. 17 he repeated in an interview that he was supporting Stevenson for the nomination although he intended to be in there fighting for the Democratic nominee, no matter who he might be.

For Stevenson Sept. 9
Again, on Sept. 9, he still was in the Stevenson cheering section. He said in a speech in Chicago that he had talked with Stevenson by telephone that morning and "I told him if he announced for president I would be for him."

Thirty days later, the former

President didn't appear to be so positive about whom he would support. While visiting Harriman in Albany, N.Y., he remarked that he was "as neutral as a man could possibly be in my position."

Political observers noted that on the same day, Harriman said during a television program he had "no obligation" to Stevenson and had never said "I would support him in a convention," although Harriman had said previously he was for Stevenson.

Harriman Not Candidate—?
Harriman insists he isn't a candidate for the nomination, but nevertheless he's getting a strong buildup from the Tammany Hall organization headed by Carmine DeSapio, a New York national committeeman.

It has been expected that Stevenson will announce his candidacy soon. Yesterday Truman told reporters he wasn't choosing sides before the convention. He said "I have no candidate, except I want a winner when the Democratic convention acts." And he predicted the Democratic nominee would be the winner.

On this occasion, when he referred to Stevenson and Harriman, he said, "they're both good men"—drawing no distinction between them. On the face of it, Harriman would seem to have gained strength by reason of the former President's announced neutrality while Stevenson had slipped at least a small step.

GOV. DONNELLY SEIZES STRUCK STATE UTILITY

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly Tuesday ordered the state to seize and operate the St. Louis Public Service Co., tied up Monday night by a strike of AFL streetcar and bus operators.

He took the action under the King-Thompson law, which permits the state to take over a public utility in the interests of public welfare.

Approximately 200,000 persons use the street cars and busses daily. The strike was voted unanimously Monday night by some 1,400 union members and took effect immediately.

Rogers Appointed
Gov. Donnelly appointed Daniel C. Rogers, chairman of the State Mediation Board as his agent to operate the company. He announced his decision in telegrams to John C. Baine, president of the company, and A. E. East, the union head.

Two hours after the effective seizure time newsmen and Rogers reported failure to locate East. A call to the union office brought this answer from an unidentified member:

"We have received no telegram. We don't know that the state has taken over."

$10,000 Penalty
The state law provides a $10,000 daily penalty against any union which continues a strike after state seizure. A flat $1,000 penalty also is possible against any union officer who takes part in such a strike against the state under that law.

Normally under the law the regular operators would run the streetcars and busses. Failure by any operator to take his vehicle out could result in his dismissal.

POE NAMED TO BANKING POST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Frank Wilson Poe, assistant cashier of the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Tuesday was named deputy state secretary of banking.

He will receive $12,084 a year as second in command of the state Banking Department under Secretary Robert L. Myers Jr. of Camp Hill.

A native of Beaver, Poe's family was one of the pioneers in Beaver County. He was educated in Beaver public schools and was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1933. He also attended the Rutgers University Graduate School of Banking.

The new secretary served four years in the Navy during the war attaining the rank of commander. He is a former cashier and director of the First National Bank of Midland and in 1946 was elected president of the Beaver County Clearing House Assn.

He joined the Mellon National Bank in 1946. He lives with his wife and two children in Pittsburgh.

$37,000 MEAT LOSS

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Thirty-thousand pounds of dressed meat were dumped in the west branch of the Schuylkill River yesterday when a tractor trailer ran through a highway intersection near here and plunged 18 feet into the water. Property damage was estimated at $37,000. The truck driver, Charles R. Clark, 28, of R. 2, Butler, Ind., escaped unhurt. State police charged him with disregarding a stop sign.

SENATE HEARS GROCERY BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Grocery stores employing six or more persons would be required to close on Sundays under a bill before the Senate Tuesday.

Under the measure, introduced Monday night by Sen. Holland (D—Allegheny) violators would be subject to a $100 fine and 90 days in jail or both.

The bill originally stated that all grocery stores in the state would have to close on Sundays but Holland amended it to allow stores with five or less employees to remain open. "It was just an oversight," he said.

Other new Senate bills would: Remove children of persons receiving public assistance from any liability when the public assistance recipient has turned over any property to the commonwealth as a prerequisite for assistance payments—Haluska (D—Cambria), Seyler (D—York) and Land (D—Washington).

Prohibit the disqualification of handicapped persons from certification as teachers when they can otherwise qualify and are able to move without help from other persons—Miller (D—Beaver).

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill that would authorize the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to take over maintenance of the Old Brown's Mill Building in Antisom Township, Franklin County, was passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Wednesday, October 12, through Sunday, October 16:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York, and Mid Atlantic States: Temperatures will average above normal, rather warm except cooler north Thursday and cooler over most sections at end of week; chance of showers about Thursday and scattered showers likely near end of week. Total rainfall light over south and about 1/2 inch over north.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperatures will average somewhat above normal, warm at beginning, becoming cooler north Thursday and cooler at end of week; some chance of showers Thursday and again toward end of week, total rainfall 1/4 to 1/2 inch.

Military Gives Aid To Hurricane Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military services reported Monday they have placed 61 million dollars in defense contracts in the northeast area hit by Hurricane Diane.

In addition Army Engineers are working on emergency flood relief legislation that will involve expenditures of about nine million dollars in the areas hit by late summer and early fall storms.

New Jersey, with $22,644,498 leads in the money value of contracts placed. Pennsylvania ranked fifth with $8,219,804 dollars.

ALL MERRILL CLIENTS IN THE VICINITY OF GETTYSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA, ARE INVITED TO APPEAR AT HOTEL GETTYSBURG, ON FRIDAY ONLY, OCTOBER 14, 12 NOON UNTIL 9 P.M. THESE PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL EXAMINATIONS ARE FREE OF CHARGE AND ARE A PART OF THE ESTABLISHED SERVICE TO OUR CLIENTS.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Sept. 14, in an interview here today, R. Blaine Dixon, international hair and scalp consultant and Director of Merrill Hair & Scalp Consultants, said: "There are many different scalp conditions that may cause men and women to lose their hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all can correct all these different conditions," he explained.

READ WHAT A FEW OF THE MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN HAIR AND SCALP ASSOCIATIONS' MANY SATISFIED CLIENTS HAVE SAID ABOUT THEIR HOME TREATMENT IN THEIR UNSOLICITED REPORTS: THERE ARE MANY MORE IN OUR FILES:

"My hair has grown very much, you can see new hair all over my scalp. The new hair looks lively and much better. I am well pleased with my hair, it looks so much better and much thicker and I thank you so much."

C. Burkett
Dorthan, Alabama
"I am quite well pleased with the success I have had as far as I have gone, which was as far as I have come, and I am convinced that with continued massaging and non-alcoholic shampoo I will be able to take care of my scalp without further treatment. I have learned quite a lot about caring for my scalp."

R. Lanston
Walla Walla, Washington
"Since beginning my treatment my hair is softer, more manageable, and it is not breaking or coming out nearly so much. I notice a general appearance of new hair all over my scalp. I am very pleased with the treatment."

TRUMAN SHIFTS AFFECTION FOR 1956 NOMINEE

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—A big question in politics today is: Whom? If anybody—does former President Harry S. Truman favor for the Democratic presidential nomination next year?

First he said it was Adlai Stevenson, the man who carried the Democratic banner unsuccessfully against GOP candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952. Now he says he is neutral. It isn't quite clear whether he has backed away from active support of Stevenson, although that would seem to follow.

In any event, Truman's activities in the past few days have centered attention on Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as a possible avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination. And it isn't likely an old campaigner like Truman spoke out without knowing his words would have some such effect.

Support Is Valuable
Few politicians would deny that Truman's support in a convention would have great value. He remains a voice with the Democratic party who can speak and command attention because he is an ex-president of the United States and a political strategist of no small ability.

For months past, Truman has said with unmistakable clarity that he was for Adlai Stevenson. He didn't mention neutrality in those statements.

On Aug. 17 he repeated in an interview that he was supporting Stevenson for the nomination although he intended to be in there fighting for the Democratic nominee, no matter who he might be.

For Stevenson Sept. 9. Again, on Sept. 9, he still was in the Stevenson cheering section. He said in a speech in Chicago that he had talked with Stevenson by telephone that morning and "I told him if he announced for president I would be for him."

Thirty days later, the former

President didn't appear to be so positive about whom he would support. While visiting Harriman in Albany, N. Y., he remarked that he was "as neutral as a man could possibly be in my position."

Political observers noted that on the same day, Harriman said during a television program he had "no obligation" to Stevenson and had never said "I would support him in a convention," although Harriman had said previously he was for Stevenson.

Harriman Not Candidate?
Harriman insists he isn't a candidate for the nomination, but nevertheless he's getting a strong buildup from the Tammany Hall organization headed by Carmine DeSapio, a New York national committeeman.

It has been expected that Stevenson will announce his candidacy soon.

Yesterday Truman told reporters he wasn't choosing up sides before the convention. He said "I have no candidate, except I want a winner when the Democratic convention acts." And he predicted the Democratic nominee would be the winner.

On this occasion, when he referred to Stevenson and Harriman, he said, "they're both good men"—drawing no distinction between them.

On the face of it, Harriman would seem to have gained strength by reason of the former President's announced neutrality while Stevenson had slipped at least a small step.

Youth Wins Contest On Fourth Attempt

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An 18-year-old Hawaiian youth, competing his fourth year in the Future Farmers of America speaking contest, won the national title and $250 Monday night. He was Liberato Viduya Jr., Lanai, Hawaii.

Clarence Van Dyne, 17, Unionville, Pa., finished fourth and won $175.

GOV. DONNELLY SEIZES STRUCK STATE UTILITY

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly Tuesday ordered the state to seize and operate the St. Louis Public Service Co., tied up Monday night by a strike of AFL streetcar and bus operators.

He took the action under the King-Thompson law, which permits the state to take over a public utility in the interests of public welfare.

Approximately 200,000 persons use the street cars and busses daily. The strike was voted unanimously Monday night by some 1,400 union members and took effect immediately.

Rogers Appointed
Gov. Donnelly appointed Daniel C. Rogers, chairman of the State Mediation Board as his agent to operate the company. He announced his decision in telegrams to John C. Baine, president of the company, and A. E. East, the union head.

Two hours after the effective seizure time newsmen and Rogers reported failure to locate East. A call to the union office brought this answer from an unidentified member:

"We have received no telegram. We don't know that the state has taken over."

$10,000 Penalty
The state law provides a $10,000 daily penalty against any union which continues a strike after state seizure. A flat $1,000 penalty also is possible against any union officer who takes part in such a strike against the state under that law.

Normally under the law the regular operators would run the streetcars and buses. Failure by any operator to take his vehicle out could result in his dismissal.

POE NAMED TO BANKING POST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Frank Wilson Poe, assistant cashier of the Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Tuesday was named deputy state secretary of banking.

He will receive $12,108 a year as second in command of the state Banking Department under Secretary Robert L. Myers Jr. of Camp Hill.

A native of Beaver, Poe's family was one of the pioneers in Beaver County. He was educated in Beaver public schools and was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1933. He also attended the Rutgers University Graduate School of Banking.

The new secretary served four years in the Navy during the war, attaining the rank of commander.

He is a former cashier and director of the First National Bank of Midland and in 1946 was elected president of the Beaver County Clearing House Assn.

He joined the Mellon National Bank in 1946. He lives with his wife and two children in Pittsburgh.

$37,000 MEAT LOSS

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Thirty-thousand pounds of dressed meat were dumped in the west branch of the Schuylkill River yesterday when a tractor trailer ran through a highway intersection near here and plunged 18 feet into the water. Property damage was estimated at $37,000. The truck driver, Charles R. Clark, 28, of R. 2, Butler, Ind., escaped unhurt. State police in Twp., Franklin County, was charged him with disregarding a stop sign.

SENATE HEARS GROCERY BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Grocery stores employing six or more persons would be required to close on Sundays under a bill before the Senate Tuesday.

Under the measure, introduced Monday night by Sen. Holland (D—Allegheny) violators would be subject to a $100 fine and 90 days in jail or both.

The bill originally stated that all grocery stores in the state would have to close on Sundays but Holland amended it to allow stores with five or less employees to remain open "it was just an oversight," he said.

Other new Senate bills would remove children of persons receiving public assistance from any liability when the public assistance recipient has turned over any property to the commonwealth as a prerequisite for assistance payments—Halskus (D—Cambria), Seyler (D—York) and Land (D—Washington).

Prohibit the disqualification of handicapped persons from certification as teachers when they can otherwise qualify and are able to move without help from other persons—Miller (D—Beaver).

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill that would authorize the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to take over maintenance of the Old Brown's Mill Building in Antisheep, Franklin County, was passed by the Senate yesterday and sent to the House.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Wednesday, October 12, through Sunday, October 16

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York, and Mid Atlantic States: Temperatures will average above normal, rather warm except cooler north Thursday and cooler over most sections at end of week; chance of showers about Thursday and scattered showers likely near end of week. Total rainfall light over south and about 1/2 inch over north.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperatures will average somewhat above normal, warm at beginning, becoming cooler north Thursday and cooler at end of week.

Military Gives Aid To Hurricane Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military services reported Monday they have placed 61 million dollars in defense contracts in the northeast area hit by Hurricane Diane.

In addition Army Engineers are working on emergency flood relief legislation that will involve expenditures of about nine million dollars in the areas hit by late summer and early fall storms.

New Jersey, with $22,644,498 leads in the money value of contracts placed. Pennsylvania ranked fifth with $8,219,804 dollars.

week, some chance of showers Thursday and again toward end of week, total rainfall 1/4 to 1/2 inch.

What Is Your Reason For BALDNESS?

ALL MERRILL CLIENTS IN THE VICINITY OF GETTYSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA, ARE INVITED TO APPEAR AT HOTEL GETTYSBURG, ON FRIDAY ONLY, OCTOBER 14, 12 NOON UNTIL 9 P.M. THESE PRIVATE INDIVIDUAL EXAMINATIONS ARE FREE OF CHARGE AND ARE A PART OF THE ESTABLISHED SERVICE TO OUR CLIENTS.

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Sept. 14 in an interview here today, R. Blaine Dixon, international hair and scalp consultant and Director of Merrill Hair & Scalp Consultants, are given this guarantee. "If you said: 'There are many different scalp conditions that may cause men and women to lose their hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all can correct all these different conditions,' he explained. READ WHAT A FEW OF THE MEMBERS OF THE AMERICAN HAIR AND SCALP ASSOCIATION'S MANY SATISFIED CLIENTS HAVE SAID ABOUT THEIR HOME TREATMENT IN THEIR UNSOLICITED REPORTS. THERE ARE MANY MORE IN OUR FILES. "My hair has grown very much you can see new hair all over my scalp. The new hair looks lively and much better. I am well pleased with my hair. It looks so much better and much thicker and I thank you so much." C. Burkett, Dothan, Alabama. "I am quite well pleased with the success I have had as far as I have gone, which was the three months course, and I am convinced that with continued massaging and non-alcoholic shampoo I will be able to take care of my scalp without further treatment. I have learned quite a lot about caring for my scalp." R. Landon, Walla Walla, Washington. "Since beginning my treatment my hair is softer, more manageable, and it is not breaking or coming out nearly so much. I notice a general appearance of new hair all over my scalp. I am very pleased with the treatment." B. P. Brown, Alva, Oklahoma. Guaranteed. Not everyone can be helped by the Merrill Home Treatment. Only those we think we can help are accepted for treatment. Those who are accepted for Merrill Home Treatment are given this guarantee. "If you are not completely satisfied at the end of thirty days your money will be returned. This is only because most people are skeptical of claims that hair can grow on balding heads. Usually when a person avails himself of the Merrill treatment, his skepticism disappears. No Cure-All "We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Dixon emphasizes. "If there is still fuzz, that hair follicle of the scalp is still producing hair. Merrill's users have grown hair. We have many reports testifying that after using our home treatment, weak fuzz has developed into healthy mature hair. Proper use of this home treatment may bring about a healthy scalp condition which will help the body to produce new hair. If there is any fuzz at all, a healthy scalp condition may be restored, and the hair may grow normally again as nature intended." There is one thing Dixon wants to be certain every man and woman knows: If a recession appears at the temple or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention. Free Examination In addition to reexamining present clients, the Merrill method of home treatment will be demonstrated to others who are interested. The examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The Consultant makes no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After examining the person, he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost. Regular reports are made to the Merrill firm in Oklahoma City to check the progress of the home treatment.

HOW'S YOUR HAIR
IF IT WORRIES YOU CALL OUR CONSULTANT, J. P. SCOTT, AT HOTEL GETTYSBURG IN GETTYSBURG ON FRIDAY ONLY, OCTOBER 14, 12 NOON UNTIL 9 P.M. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED. REDS SUGGEST WORLD AGENCY ON IKE'S PLAN

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Western sources said today they were encouraged by Russia's conditional endorsement of an international agency to carry out President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan.

V. V. Kuznetsov, Soviet first deputy foreign minister, offered a resolution to the U.N. General Assembly's key Political Committee yesterday expressing hope such an agency could be set up soon within the U.N. framework. But he added the proviso the proposed body must be subject to the Security Council and its big-power veto on major security questions and also must be open to all countries, including Red China and East Germany.

U. S. Opposes Veto

The United States wants the proposed atomic body to have the status of a specialized U.N. agency and strongly opposes any veto authority by the major powers over the agency's normal functions. However, Washington recognizes that any question vitally affecting the security of a state would have to come before the Security Council.

The Western informants emphasized that although the Soviet delegate hammered away for the conditions Moscow wants imposed on any atomic agency, he did not indulge in any diatribes aimed at the West.

Kuznetsov told the Political Committee the proposed agency must be joined more closely to the U.N. than a specialized agency, submitting regular progress reports

MARJORIE HOPES FOR MANY CARDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Twelve-year-old Marjorie Lee Elder of Lewisburg, Pa., rested comfortably in Children's Hospital today and read the first batch of "get-well" cards—the only thing she really wanted as she prepared for a delicate brain operation Friday.

A hospital spokesman said the child received "about 20 cards" in the morning mail, adding that the beginning generally is slow and that it probably would build up to hundreds in the days ahead.

The operation by hospital surgeons will be to remove a birthmark on the right side of her brain. The operation is necessary to save her life, but doctors warn that even if it is successful it would leave her partially paralyzed, and possibly even halibled.

Marjorie says she's not afraid and "just hopes" she gets "lots of cards."

"I would like to make a scrap book of them."

to both the Security Council and the General Assembly. He added: Security Council Control

"If some questions pertaining to the security of any states arise in connection with the work of the international agency, the necessary decisions in this case should be taken by the Security Council in its capacity as the body entrusted with the main responsibility for maintaining peace and international security."

The Soviet delegate insisted on these provisos: (1) all states would be able to join the proposed agency; (2) no country or group of countries would have a privileged position in it; and (3) the body's activities must not endanger the security of any state.

PASTOR WINS $8,000 FOR HIS JAZZ ANSWERS

NEW YORK (AP)—A jazz-loving clergyman shared the spotlight on The $84,000 Question CBS television and radio show last night as time limitations nudged out a baseball expert for another week.

The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, rector of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Oxford, Ohio, won $8,000 in his chosen category of jazz, which he has been studying for a number of years.

He had advanced through $128 last week when time ran out. Last night he advanced through a number of questions, some of which required the playing of records and consumed considerable time.

On the $8,000 question he identified a 1925 recording as "St. Louis Blues," composed by W. C. Handy, sung by Bessie Smith, with Louis Armstrong as trumpet accompanist.

The Rev. Mr. Kershaw, 35, will appear on the program next Tuesday night to announce whether he will take his $8,000 or try the $16,000 question.

Appearing after the clergyman, Patrick Keough, 62-year-old St. Louis businessman, announced he would try the $32,000 question in his baseball category.

Master of ceremonies Hal March started to read a question—five minutes before the end of the program. An aide interrupted to say that time was up. Keough said he would return next Tuesday night to try the $32,000 question. Then came the windup commercial for the cosmetic firm which sponsors the show.

Don E. Self Jr., 24-year-old physicist from El Paso, Tex., was kept off the program by time limitations. He is scheduled to be announced next week whether he will try the $16,000 question in his mythology category.
